Traditions

Twenty-eight years ago a new school was erected in the eastern suburb of the budding city of Tulsa. Its untrodden halls were bare; it silently awaited the generations of students who would give it character and vitality.

Today, after twenty-eight classes have passed through its doors, Will Rogers High School stands proud and majestic beneath the Sooner skies, a focal point of a progressive city. Its unique character, forged from the personalities of thousands of students, is enriched by a tradition of greatness . . . yet a tradition of humility.

As part of this tradition, we face the perpetual challenge to surpass the customs established by former classes, to explore new paths and to generate new ideas. Our high school years are like a torch which we burn brightly for a brief time and then pass on to the next generation.

Though we cannot halt the inevitable passing of time, we pause, and look down the path of memories of our years at Will Rogers High School—not a place, but a tradition.

DR. CHARLES C. MASON
Superintendent of Schools

Dr. Mason Heads School Board

The continuous improvement of educational facilities and the effective school system of Tulsa are due to the hard work and dedication of Charles C. Mason. As Superintendent of Schools and executive officer of the Board of Education, Dr. Mason has been noted for many years as an innovator of the highest possible education for the youth of Tulsa. Tulsa Public Schools, ranking among the top schools of the nation, speak well of his capability as a leader.

In maintaining his high standards, Dr. Mason daily takes into consideration many new ideas which might benefit the current system. Seeking the finest educational opportunities for the schools, he reviews new techniques of teaching, deals with individual school problems, and pursues new ideas for learning. His efforts have established a tradition of quality for which we are proud.

Serving on the Board of Education constitutes making decisions daily which apply to all aspects of the educational system of Tulsa. These elected board members deal with such specific problems as cafeteria management, budget and finance, personnel and business relations.

The board functions through the use of committees on which the members serve. Special supervisors are appointed to lead the various departments of all the schools of Tulsa. Such citizens are appointed annually by the board. Through the continuous work of Dr. Mason, the Board of Education, department supervisors, principals and hundreds of teachers, Tulsa can claim an outstanding scholastic system.

Dr. Knight takes time out from a demanding schedule to relax.

Dr. Raymond W. Knight, principal of Will Rogers High School, is recognized as one of the nation's leading secondary school administrators. A former president of the Oklahoma Education Association, and a member of the National Secondary Schools Principal's Association, he has been active in both local and national educational circles for more than thirty years.

For seventeen years, Dr. Knight has been a "Roper," guiding Will Rogers to impressive scholastic records and national honors. In every phase of school activity, from assemblies and plays to student government and sports, he demonstrates his interest in education and his pride in the traditions of Will Rogers High School.

New Materials Aid English Department

Overhead projectors, recordings of classical poetry, complete classroom sets of dictionaries and films to supplement literary assignments are but a few of the new additions to the English system at Rogers this year.

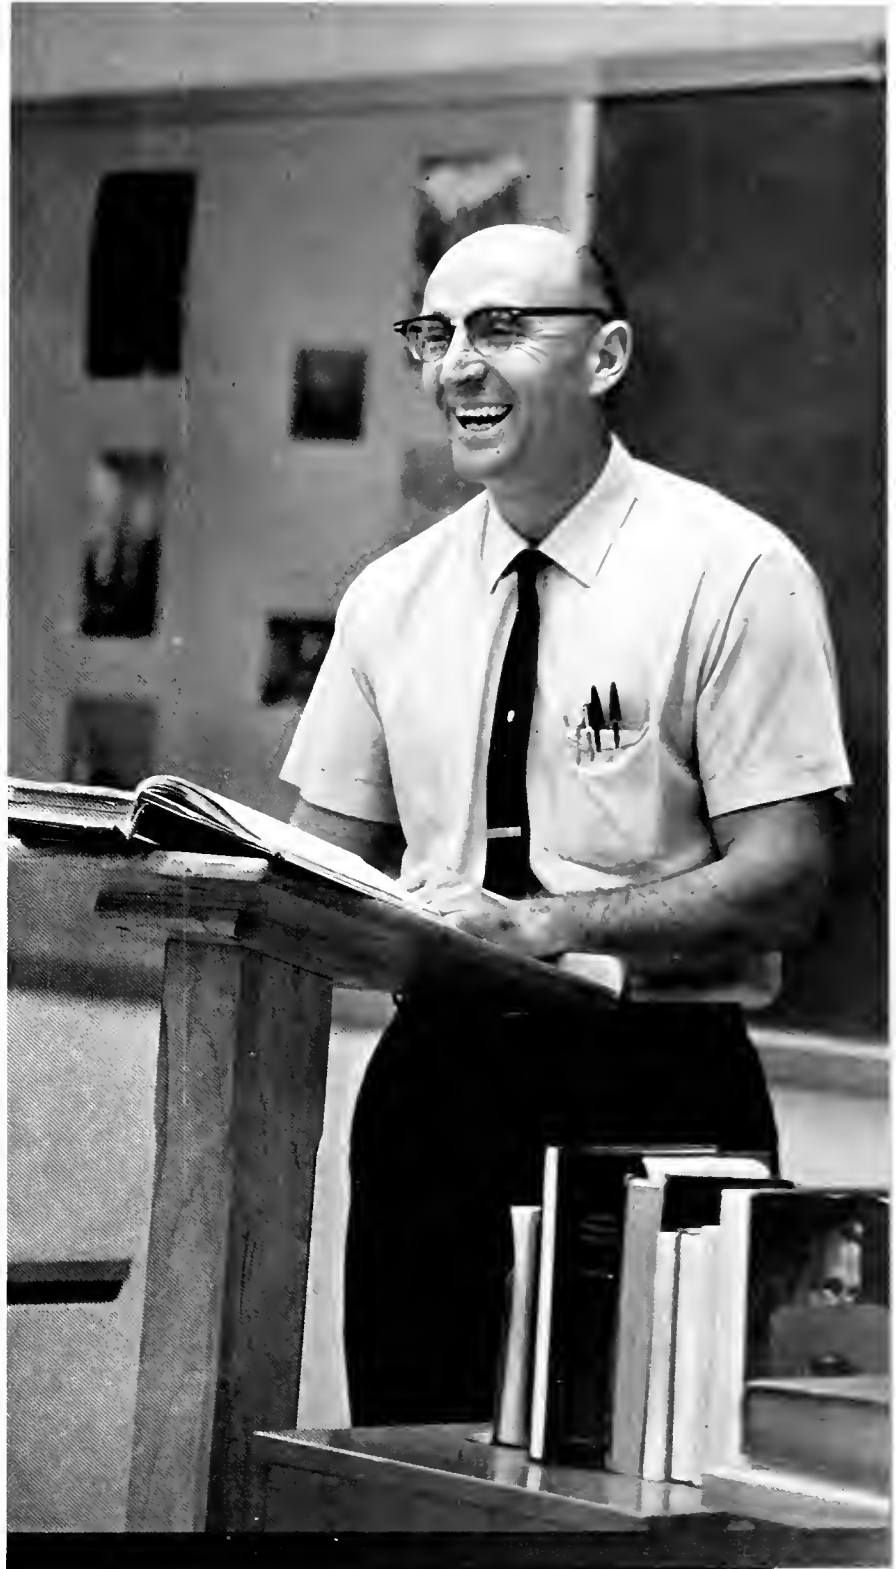

Senior English includes the coverage of world literature, featuring such selections as Hamlet, Cyrano de Bergerac, Oedipus, and Plato's Apology, with films and class discussion to aid student comprehension. Films covering the Humanities, Oedipus, and Hamlet are an important part of the senior English program. Accelerated seniors are grouped in the Advanced Placement class, and after a year of intensive study, compete for college credit in the comprehensive achievement test.

Junior English features the study of English literature, the novel, with Dicken's Tale of Two Cities as a model, grammar, and the research paper. Films on both the novel and Shakespeare's Macbeth are included in the class schedule.

Sophomores study American literature, including such works as Hawthorne's novel The House of Seven Gables, and Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-winning drama Our Town. English 2200, a programmed grammar textbook, was introduced this year to sophomores on an experimental basis.

Ropers' Review, the traditional student literary publication, was revived this year to give creative English students the opportunity to display their talents. Specialized courses such as two years of journalism and three of speech are offered to Rogers' students. Vast research facilities are available in the library, including periodicals, college bulletins and books.

Mr. Meadows assists English students Carolyn Casey and Cliff Hess with assignment.

"You thought Macbeth's mother was Lady Godiva?" queries Mr. Hinkel during a class discussion.

Mathematics Courses Offer Insight

Math courses available to Rogers' students include five semesters of algebra, one semester of plane geometry, one semester of solid geometry, trigonometry, and physics. For the accelerated students there is an advanced study of math analysis, which is not offered until college in most educational systems. In addition to an expanded curriculum, College Algebra, a modernized and expanded revision of advanced algebra, was introduced this year.

The math department also sponsors Mu Alpha Theta, a national honorary mathematics organization for students enrolled in advanced classes with exceptional grade averages.

Science Laboratories Renovated

"This assignment is a week late," exclaims Mrs. Arnold to a slothful student.

Renovation of all science classrooms and laboratories was the main modification in the science department this year. New films and visual aids offered interest to the science courses. Extracurricular activities were available to students with special interests in various phases of science. Science Club and Medical Club members were given the opportunity to hear many interesting lectures and to see many experiments. In a forum presented by the National Geophysical Association, Ray Stanish of Chicago explained Einstein's theory of relativity and related it to problems of everyday life.

This year the history department curriculum continued to offer such courses as U. S. History, World History, Ancient and Medieval History, Sociology, Government and Economics.

Many visual aids such as movies, film strips and overhead projectors were added to encourage history students to become more aware of the past and its civilizations.

Two new clubs, Archaeology Club and Citizenship Club, were initiated as extracurricular activities. The Archaeology Club embarked on field trips around the state searching for relics of our Indian predecessors. The Citizenship Club sponsored a "Citizenship Week" in April.

History Gives Background

Language Studies Stress Conversation

Mrs. Edwards contemplates a difficult translation of Caesar's Gallic Wars.

Students desiring to broaden their vocabularies are offered extensive training in French, German, Latin and Spanish. To meet the need for individual attention, the language lab gives the instructor the opportunity to listen to either the entire class or a single student respond to taped oral exercises. Language club meetings with entire conversations in foreign languages are available to students. Field trips to restaurants featuring foreign menus and films of tours of foreign countries encourage the student to parallel foreign cultures and customs with those of his own country.

Music plays a major role in the activities and traditions of Will Rogers. Under the direction of Carl Barnett, the Will Rogers Marching Band provides half-time entertainment and pep music at football games. Vocal music students, instructed by Wesley Howl, provide music for Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and many other assemblies. Traditionally, a select group of vocalists provide an "Amen" response in the opening exercises of school assemblies. For serious music students a course of music theory and harmony is offered, which includes assignments of composing Thanksgiving anthems, Christmas carols and other major works.

Students with artistic interests are offered classes in Basic Art, Commercial Art, Painting and Composition, and Fashion and Interior Design.

Outstanding works are displayed in exhibitions at Philbrook Art Center. A new tradition of painting murals for gifts to the school has been added at Rogers. Art students paint backdrops for class plays and Round-Up.

Numerous courses are offered to girls interested in becoming better prepared for home living. The homemaking curriculum includes three years of clothing, which teaches girls wardrobe construction and budget management; two years of foods, for insight into preparing well-balanced meals; General Homemaking, Home Living, Family Economics and a course in Home Nursing and Child Development. Extracurricular activity is provided through the Future Homemakers Club, which sponsors the Betty Crocker Examination, offering valuable scholarships to outstanding homemaking students needing financial assistance.

Boys compete in swimming, wrestling, weight-lifting, basketball, baseball, football, track, golf and tennis. This includes varsity teams which represent Will Rogers in conference competition.

Girls' physical education includes a balanced schedule of recreation in field hockey, modern dancing, swimming and tennis. Extracurricular activity is offered through the Girls Recreation Association, composed of Sports Club, Swim Club and Modern Dance Club. Physical education has become a traditional standard at Will Rogers.

Job Training Given

Students at Rogers interested in a career in the rapidly growing field of mechanized work are offered training in such areas as cosmetology, vocational printing, woods, machine shop, electronics, drafting and auto mechanics. Students also design and print posters, tickets and programs for the school. Co-op, Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training offer advanced placement and experience through a program of part-time work.

From these courses students may obtain skill in using calculators, dictaphones, addressographs and comptometers. Interested students may participate in the extracurricular activities of the Future Business Leaders of America Club. These activities help students to prepare themselves for future employment.

STUDENT LIFE

*A tradition of activity — building
our lives and broadening our horizons.*

Activities

Activities are the steppingstones in our high school lives, for what we do determines what we shall be. Realizing this, we explore the many intriguing possibilities for action and participate in those that capture our interest. As we look back on our high school years, we will remember the entertaining plays, varied assemblies, and spirited pep rallies that highlighted our days at Rogers. We will remember the traditions of our school, such as Round-Up and Will Rogers Week, and the tears and laughter they brought us. We remember these activities because we give them something of ourselves, and they, in turn, enrich our lives and enlarge our characters.

Dastardly villain Craven Sinclair (Nicky Dyer) offers Lily, the felon's daughter (Connie Rush), the difficult choice between being blackmailed or being married to him.

Junior thespian Jim Seymour strikes the pose which made him famous as the "hero" of his class play. "Lily, The Felon's Daughter."

Outstanding junior dramatists Connie Rush, Jo Shahan and Nicky Dyer display their exceptional talents in a particularly tense scene.

Jo Shahan gets a preview of what she will look like in forty or fifty years, as make-up artists eagerly add many wrinkles and lines.

Railroad bums Ben Russell and Mike Malloy perform in one of the unique acts, a jug, fife and bottle band, "Off the Mainline."

With a flourish of multicolored ruffles and clicking castanets, Diane Dickerson performs an authentic Flamenco dance.

"Hang on Sloopy!" Boh Lewis and Suzi Benear give the Cha-Cha a new look as discotheque dancers perform in this lively number from the Skyline scene.

Trumpeting troubador Larry Price cuts loose with "The Lonely Bull."

Nineteenth Round-Up Makes Headlines

"Take a deep breath; we're ready to begin. 'cause Round-Up makes headlines tonight!" So began the 1967 production of Round-Up, the annual all-school talent show directed by Miss Doris Niles.

"Lines" was the theme of this year's show, and its formal title became "Along These Lines." After tryouts were held in December, the process of selection began and finally resulted in such numbers as "By-Lines," "Hobo Line-Up" and "Line Breakers." The theme was further carried out in the continuity, sets and costumes.

For the first time in its nineteen year history, Round-Up ran five nights, February 21-25. The many hours of practice and hard work paid off as Round-Up '67 took its place at the "head of the line."

Talented mountain climbers Alessandro Tomassini, Barbara Verkins, Cathy Elmore, and Nathan Schacter pause briefly to admire the Edelweiss "Above the Timberline."

One of the most popular numbers, the "Mariachi" band, performs a medley of Tijuana Brass hits in the Borderline scene.

"Lines" Prevail in Colorful Scenes

"Hey, we've got good news!" Introductory "Byliners" sing the praises of Round-Up.

This year's theme of "Lines" provided the basis for many varied scenes. A railroad depot was the setting for "Off the Mainline," where talented hobos sang, danced and played musical bottles. A fairy, a dancing bear and a group of leprechauns performed in an enchanted forest, "Beyond the Timberline." The five Round-Up models appeared as storybook princesses. Round-Up went "Across the Borderline" for a colorful Mexican fiesta. Cape-twirling matadors and a lonely bull ended the first act with a flourish.

The stage band set the mood "Above the Skyline," a Broadway scene with flashing lights and discotheque dancers. "On the Shoreline" brought the show to a climax with an erupting volcano and a native uprising.

Behind every successful production of Round-Up there is an industrious Round-Up Board. Under the direction of Miss Doris Niles the Board begins work in the spring of the previous year, choosing a theme and electing temporary officers.

Meetings are held throughout the summer to discuss possible scene ideas related to the theme. At the beginning of school new sophomores are added and permanent officers are elected.

In December try-outs are held, and work begins in earnest as the Board meets every day in January to plan scenes, sets, and costumes. Then come hours of rehearsals, and Board members seek creative solutions to the problems that arise.

Work is not complete until the final curtain falls, concluding the final performance. Round-Up Board members have proven that creativity, patience, and diligence bring success.

Members of Thespian Troupe #1167, honorary dramatic society, are annually seen in leading roles of class plays and Round-Up. Eligibility for Thespian membership is determined by points earned for participation in plays, assemblies, Round-Up and other dramatic productions.

This year, under the sponsorship of Miss Doris Niles and the leadership of President Charles Averill, the troupe doubled its membership. A special Christmas initiation was held as well as the spring initiation.

Meetings were held every other Thursday, highlighted by pantomimes, acting scenes and speeches by outstanding dramatic students. The troupe also corresponded with former member Anita Bryant, now a well-known entertainer. By their participation, Thespians both increased their own dramatic ability and enriched school activities.

Varied Assemblies Highlight the Year

Jerry Hobson escorts junior attendant Kathy Folger in the coronation assembly.

Enlivening the daily routine of class-work and study are the Rogers assemblies, usually presented on alternate Fridays. Miss Doris Niles, head of the speech department, is in charge of the programs, which feature student participants as well as distinguished guests.

Assemblies may be entertaining, inspiring or informative. The programs include such varied topics as litter in the halls, safe driving, popular music and patriotism.

Certain traditional assemblies hold special meaning for the student body. Chief among these is the annual presentation of the Shaw Achievement Awards, a suspense-filled assembly viewed only by juniors and seniors. Other significant assemblies include the two queen coronations and the inspirational Easter assembly.

The members of the Will Rogers Chorale, under the direction of Wesley Howl, initiate a new tradition as they perform selections of contemporary music in their first pop concert.

"Why, this tastes as good as fresh perked!" Karen Dawson enjoys a cup of coffee while Susan Smith looks on approvingly in this scene from the Christmas assembly.

Will Rogers Week Becomes Tradition

The Chorale performs before Governor Henry Bellmon (center) and other dignitaries at the special memorial ceremony in Claremore.

Last year a new observance was initiated at "Will on the Hill," the celebration of Will Rogers Week to commemorate the birthday and life of Will Rogers. This year it became established as a tradition during the week of October 31.

Various activities of the week included a room decorating contest, a roping competition won by Dr. Knight, and the election of Friendliest Boy and Girl.

Thursday, Will's birthday, was designated Dress-up Day. A special assembly was held featuring guest speaker Joel McCrea, well-known actor, cowboy and friend of Will Rogers. Friday wound up the week with the Will Rogers Chorale traveling to Claremore for a memorial celebration.

Dr. Knight, member of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, addresses the crowd of people who came to the Memorial to honor the memory of Will on his birthday.

Personalities

The character of a school is a composite of the personalities of its individual students. Will Rogers has traditionally been known as a friendly, enthusiastic school with high standards, and this is a reflection of its student body. Roper friendliness and enthusiasm are evident every day in the warm smiles and eager activity of students who typify the congenial spirit of Will Rogers himself. The queens, the Boys and Girls of the Month, Who's Who, and the various other award winners are all representative of the top quality of Rogers students. Indeed, the many personalities of Ropers through the years have made Will Rogers the great high school it is.

"We are the Roper delegation." The cheerleaders take time out from their busy schedules to relax before a game.

Cheerleaders Win Honors, Build Spirit

"You're lookin' good"—Suzi Benear and Steve Kirkland

"Stand up and holler!"—Kathy Folger and Charles Fox

"Let's go, big Blue!"—Tari Trine and Jim Seymour

"We are the Ropers"—Emily Wheeler and Don Dickson

Will Rogers is known for its spirit, and much of it is due to ten enthusiastic individuals, the cheerleaders. Sponsored by Miss Carolyn Jones, the Rogers squad is one of the few remaining boy and girl squads in the state. Elected by the student body in the spring, the cheerleaders immediately begin raising money and practicing for the cheerleading clinic held in August on the campus of Southern Methodist University.

Throughout June and July this year's squad practiced daily at 6:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. The hours of practice paid off at clinic, for the squad won the "spirit stick" given to the most spirited group, three blue ribbons in daily competition, and the grand championship in final competition.

The cheerleaders hold numerous pep rallies and assemblies, sponsor the Ugly Man contest and cheer at all football and basketball games. The many hours they give in service to the school help make the Roper spirit great.

Reigning as Miss Will Rogers XXVIII is Cindy Bailey, chosen by the student body to represent the highest Roper qualities and ideals. She was elected on the basis of her charm, poise and personality to reign as queen of the victorious Roper football team.

In a double coronation assembly on October 6, Cindy was crowned by Mike Dupree, football captain. Cindy, wearing the traditional gold robe and carrying yellow mums, appeared on stage following her attendants.

Senior attendants and escorts were Suzi Benear and Gary McDonald, Tari Trine and Angie LaFaro. Junior attendants Jan Benear and Kathy Folger were escorted by Tom Arnold and Jerry Hobson. Jim Baker and Ronnie Fluke escorted sophomore attendants Sylvia Capps and Connie Johnson.

At an evening ceremony during half-time at the Rogers-Joplin game, Don Sanders crowned Miss Will Rogers again. With Stirrups Pep Club in a crown formation and Will Rogers Marching Band playing "Sweet and Lovely," the royal court was escorted onto the field. Cindy was crowned with the traditional gold football helmet, and her reign was officially begun.

Lenna Reigns As Roper Band Queen

Finalists surround Jake Jorishie: Sheryl Weigant, Annette Wilson, Tonda Barnhart, Susie Monger, Linda Chandler, Lenna Baranoff, Linda Wilson, Karen Sharp and Janis Whited.

Chosen in the spring preceding her senior year, the Will Rogers Band Queen traditionally reigns over the Roper bands. This year's queen is Lenna Baranoff, who shares the honors with attendants Tonda Barnhart and Linda Wilson.

Lenna and her attendants were chosen from finalists Linda Chandler, Susie Monger, Karen Sharp, Janis Whited, Sheryl Weigant and Annette Wilson. These finalists were selected by the band from a field of twenty contestants nominated by the Class of '67.

Wearing the traditional white suit trimmed in gold and carrying red roses, Queen Lenna was featured in parades celebrating the Tulsa State Fair, the arrival of Miss America, and Christmas. She also represented the instrumental groups as guest of honor at all football games and at the annual band formal held in the spring.

Boy and Girl of the Month

Chosen for September were Bob Lewis and Lenna Baranoff. Bob is Senior Class President and is active in Round-Up Board and NHS. A member of Chorale, Bob was chosen to sing in the All-State Chorus. Lenna is Band Queen and Senior Class Secretary. A member of Student Council, NHS, and Chorale, she was elected Girls State Governor and Girls Nation delegate.

Dignified seniors Bob and Lenna search for the bicycle rack.

Boy and Girl for October were Don Sanders and Cindy Bailey. A delegate to Boys State, Don is also President of the Student Council and a football letterman. He is a member of Mu Alpha Theta, NHS, and School Life Staff and was named an O.U. Merit Scholar. Cindy is head varsity cheerleader and was elected Friendliest Girl and Miss Will Rogers XXVIII.

Don vents his frustrations on a defenseless pumpkin as Cindy watches.

Kap Kappel and Vicki Bunn were November's honorees. Kap is editor of School Life and Hoofprints and served as Sophomore Class President. He is a member of NHS, Senior Board, and Hi-Y. Vicki is Senior Class Student Council Representative and was an AFS exchange student to Germany. A finalist for Football Queen, she is an active member of Thespians, NHS, Chorale, and Round-Up Board.

"Hey, leave the leaves alone!" Hard-working Vicki Bunn sees all her efforts go to waste, as Editor Kap Kappel pretends the leaves are the members of School Life staff.

December's Boy and Girl were Steve Sizemore and Linda Chandler. Steve was a Boys State delegate and received a summer scholarship to Oklahoma Baptist University. He is a basketball letterman and a member of NHS, Mu Alpha Theta, Chorale, and Science Club. Linda is Treasurer of the Senior Class and the Citizenship Club. A member of NHS, she is also head squad leader for Stirrups.

"You take the high ones, and I'll get the low ones," laughs Linda Chandler as she and Steve Sizemore, December's Boy and Girl of the Month, put the finishing touches on a Christmas tree.

Selected for January were Don Lucas and Gay Madden. Don is a track and basketball letterman and Conference high jump champion. He is Auto Club President and serves on Student Council and Senior Board. Gay is Student Council Social Chairman and "sister" to AFS'er Ligia Cascante. An honor roll student and Secretary of NHS, she is a Marching Band officer and Round-Up Make-up Chairman.

Don Lucas, January's Boy of the Month, looks 'round a snow-covered tree apprehensively, as his counterpart Gay Madden awaits the perfect opportunity to score a cold direct hit.

Justin Shields and Dee Ann Brown were Boy and Girl of the Month for February. Justin is a member of Mu Alpha Theta, Auto Club and Citizenship Club. An honor roll student, he was a delegate to the NHS State Convention. Dee Ann, a former class officer, serves on Senior Board and Round-Up Board. A Stirrups squad leader and honor roll student, she is a member of Auto Club, French Club and Chorale.

Happiness is a warm fire and a sack of marshmallows. A cold day in February just naturally calls for a fire in the fireplace, and Dee Ann Brown and Justin Shields put this one to good use.

Celebrities for March were Thurman Nance and Annette Wilson. Thurman, a member of NHS and Mu Alpha Theta, is on the Executive Board of the Auto Club. He was also the recipient of the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award. Annette, President of Stirrups Pep Club is also a member of NHS. She has served on Student Council and Advertising Board and was a finalist for Band Queen.

"But I thought he was supposed to have a basket of eggs!" Thurman Nance and Annette Wilson, Boy and Girl for March, intercept an Easter bunny who is making an early appearance this year.

April's Boy and Girl were Jake Jorishie and Peggy Vaughn. Jake is Rogers Band Captain and plays with the Young Tulsans band. A Fleming Award alternate, he is a member of NHS, Science Club and Mu Alpha Theta. Peggy, Student Council Corresponding Secretary, served as chairman of Will Rogers Week. She is also IUC Treasurer, Round-Up Board Program Secretary and a member of NHS.

April showers bring May flowers, but Nature isn't fast enough for some people. Peggy Vaughn and Jake Jorishie, glad to help out, add their own "April shower" to hurry Spring along.

arms. From the members of the senior class, the committee selects candidates who have achieved distinction in some area of school life. Scholastic ability and character are also taken into consideration, and each candidate must receive faculty approval.

Each month two students, a boy and a girl, are admitted to Who's Who and are given recognition in School Life. Further honor is accorded these students in the annual awards assembly at the end of the year when they are introduced to the entire student body.

Scholarship, Leadership Earn Awards

Shaw Award winners Mary Monfore, Rich Kaufman, Lenna Baranoff, Steve Sizemore and Debbie Elledge gladly relax for a moment on Senior Bench with their $100 awards.

For outstanding scholarship and character, five seniors annually receive the Shaw Achievement Awards. The eleventh presentation of these awards was held January 16, honoring the 1967 recipients, Lenna Baranoff, Debbie Elledge, Richard Kaufman, Mary Monfore and Steve Sizemore.

Shaw Awards have been presented yearly since 1957 by Judge and Mrs. Oras A. Shaw as a memorial to their son Reginald, a former Rogers student.

Principal speaker for the assembly was Dr. Frank Edmund See, Pastor of First Christian Church. The assembly also featured a program of organ music played on the Reginald Shaw Memorial Organ by Mr. Wesley Howl, Rogers' choral director and organist.

"Congratulations!" The Shaw Award recipients, still slightly stunned, greet proud friends and well-wishers backstage.

Friends and faculty members, as well as Dr. Knight, stop by the library after the assembly to congratulate the happy winners.

for Seniors

Rogers seniors annually receive many other awards on the basis of their academic abilities, leadership qualities, or service to the school. Special honors are accorded the National Merit Finalists and Tower Award winners.

The National Merit Foundation annually selects approximately 14,000 scholars making high scores on a test given in the spring of the junior year. These finalists receive certificates and become eligible for valuable scholarships.

The Tower Awards are traditionally given to ten seniors who have made outstanding contributions in a variety of fields. Selections are made by a special screening committee from faculty and student nominations. Winners receive engraved mahogany chests and recognition in the Awards Assembly.

National Merit Finalists meet in the library to increase their knowledge of their ancestors and Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. Seated are Mary Monfore and Richard Woods, and standing are Bob Collier, Steve Sizemore and Bob Cox.

Participation in drama, journalism, music and school organizations brings recognition to Tower Award winners.

Tradition Honors Friendliest Students

Exhibiting the wide smiles that won them the title of Friendliest, Cindy Bailey and Angie LaFaro pause by the statue of the original friendly Roper, Will Rogers.

"I never met a man I didn't like." Will Rogers' spirit of friendliness, apparent in this quotation, has become the traditional spirit of the Ropers. Epitomizing this quality are the Friendliest Boy and Girl, selected annually by the student body.

Sponsored by Student Council, the election highlights the activities of Will Rogers Week. The winners, chosen from ten finalists, are announced in assembly and are presented with gold engraved medallions.

Selected as Friendliest Boy and Girl for 1966-67 were seniors Angelo LaFaro and Cindy Bailey. Angie is a Senior Board representative, Hi-Y officer, Ugly Man finalist and varsity football letterman. Cindy, Miss Will Rogers XXVII, is head cheerleader, Senior Advertising Board representative, Girl of the Month for October and a Round-Up participant.

Friendliest Boy and Girl nominees gather to wish each other good luck before the final election. These finalists are Suzi Benear, Angie LaFaro, Cindy Bailey, Bill Kissinger, Mike Aston, Don Sanders, Susie Monger, Eddie Novak, Vicki Bunn and Elaine Capps.

"Cheers!" Ugly Man Steve Montgomery proposes a toast as he admires the picture of himself on his money jug.

Ugly Man Contest Aids Cheerleaders

Each year the cheerleaders sponsor the Ugly Man Contest to raise money for summer clinic. Candidates are nominated in homerooms, and finalists each have a jar into which students may deposit "votes" in the form of pennies, dimes, or even dollar bills. The jars are placed in Main Hall, and at the end of two weeks the boy with the most money in his jar is the winner. Results of the election are announced at the Stirrups' Turnabout Dance to which girls ask boys.

This year's Ugly Man is Steve "Whipper" Montgomery, chosen from well-qualified finalists Mike Aston, Mike DuPree, Angie LaFaro, Jackie Richardson and Steve Reeves. He is a basketball letterman and Hi-Y officer.

ORGANIZATIONS

A tradition of friendship — the union of a part of one mind with a part of another.

Student Council Orients Underclassmen

Student affairs and government at Will Rogers are the responsibility of the Student Council, which is composed of a representative from each homeroom and each chartered organization. Members report to their homerooms all council business and return the student opinion to the next meeting.

Student Council was functioning long before school opened this year. Orientation letters were sent to all incoming sophomores, welcoming them to "Will-on-the-Hill." Executive Board members also greeted instructors with "welcome" apples, and helped teachers move textbooks and prepare classrooms.

During September, the Council handled voter registration booths for the election of sophomore officers.

Council Promotes School Activities

In October, Student Council encouraged school spirit with a door decorating contest and dance celebrating the coronation of Miss Will Rogers. The month was also highlighted by preparing the student directory, Coral, and by sending Bill Kissinger and Jake Jorishie as representatives to the annual Bellamy Awards convention in Denver, Colorado.

November activities centered around Will Rogers Week, including the selection of Friendliest Boy and Girl, films on the life of Will Rogers and a roping contest, won by Dr. Knight.

Donations were collected at Christmas to buy gifts for the foreign exchange students. On Teacher Appreciation Day, Student Council honored the faculty with a breakfast.

"What do you mean, you 'don't want any?'" questions Student Council representative Wayne Church of a victim at the concession stand during a basketball game.

Mary Forsythe, Lenna Baranoff, Gay Madden and Braden Smith represented Rogers at the state-wide Student Council convention in Okmulgee, where the Roper delegation supported the successful Bishop Kelley candidate for president. Dress-Up Day was sponsored for the traditional Shaw Awards' Assembly. Participation in the March of Dimes campaign was another activity of January.

The entire council attended the Inter-City Student Council Convention at Tulsa University in February.

The "ninth grade banquet," along with the election of forthcoming officers climaxed the year's events.

Athletes Honored at Stirrups' Dinner

Depicting the traditional spirit of Rogers, the Stirrups' pep club supported the Roper teams as they gained outstanding records this year.

Activities began early with officers and members selling programs at the summer All-Star high school sports events. As school opened, memberships and pompons were sold to interested girls. The drive closed with 400 members, who were divided among 26 previously chosen squadleaders and were rated throughout the year on attendance at meetings, pep rallies, athletic events and other activities. In the spring squadleaders and candidates for offices were selected from members with highest points.

At home football games members sold programs which featured pictures of team members, cheerleaders, and Stirrups' officers and squadleaders. Busses were chartered to out of town games at Enid, Muskogee and Bartlesville.

Stirrups honored Miss Will Rogers at the October homecoming game by forming a crown at midfield during half-time. Climaxing the season, a chicken dinner was given to honor fall sports participants.

Stirrups Build Roper Spirit

"Go Ropers" buttons were sold to boost the Roper spirit for the winter sports events. Following the Hale clash in January, winter athletes were honored at a dinner similar to the fall banquet. Busses were chartered to Bartlesville in February for the game awarding Rogers the conference basketball crown. Spirit reached its height as the team entered state competition.

Other activities sponsored by Stirrups included the car decorating contest, with John Conway's homeroom class winning, and the annual "Ugly Man" contest, with the winner honored at a turnabout dance, March 23.

The club was sponsored this year by Mrs. Barbara Turner. Mrs. Ethel Schulz handled all bookkeeping.

IUC Finances Exchange Students

The goal of the International Understanding Club is to promote friendship between American students and students from other countries.

During the year the IUC members sold book covers and Christmas cards to help pay for the needed school supplies of the American Field Service exchange students. The main project of the IUC was the January candy sales which help support the next year's AFS students. A portion of the money goes to the Oklahoma Diabetic Foundation.

Sponsored by Mrs. Nancy Otto and Rod Martin, the IUC met every other Friday morning to plan the various money-raising drives and to hear speakers from many parts of the world, including the exchange students.

Ligia concentrates on a history assignment.

Ligia Cascante, Rogers' girl AFS student, is interested in football, American food and American boys. At Rogers, Ligia took English, U. S. History, typing, phys. ed., speech and home making. Gay Madden, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Madden's daughter, was Ligia's American sister. Ligia has four sisters and five brothers now living in San Jose, Costa Rica.

Sandro Tommassinsi, Rogers' boy AFS student, is a native of Terni, Italy. Sandro's AFS brother was Tom Gibbons, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Gibbons. Latin, U. S. History, English, speech, Chorale and varsity athletics were Sandro's classes this year. He was on the swimming team, in Chorale, in IUC, a member of Round-Up Board and a participant of Round-Up.

Sandro finds that English is enjoyable.

Red Cross Promotes Citizenship

Through membership in the Red Cross, students may gain a better knowledge of those less fortunate than themselves. The club stresses better citizenship through service to the community.

Sponsored by Steve Carlson, the group began the year with the annual enrollment drive. By surpassing their goal, students were eligible to participate in the trike drags, an event replacing the customary faculty talent assembly.

Christmas stockings were filled for patients of the Tulsa Hospitals, and a tree was given to the rest home at the Tulsa County Farm. Gift boxes were sent to numerous countries, including Vietnam. Other activities included a windshield wash to publicize the blood donation campaign, and a swim suit collection drive for underprivileged children of Tulsa county.

Officers Mary Mitchell and Jan Forney begin the task of filling Christmas stockings for outpatients' clinics at the various Tulsa Hospitals.

Officers of the "female" branch of the government clubs are, Front Row: Malinda Steele, treasurer; Connie White, president and Diana Conley, vice-president. Back Row: Teri Heinly, parliamentarian; Mary Hohlulski, secretary and Dayna Glanz, historian.

Sponsored by the YMCA, Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y are organizations designed to promote Christian character. Beginning with an October Convention in Oklahoma City, officers met to organize all activities on a state-wide basis. A Rogers delegation then attended the Eastern District Conference at Western Hills Lodge on November 19-20. In January, Tulsa University hosted clubs in preparation for the pre-legislative convention, which followed in February. Climaxing the study of legislative procedures, an elected delegation attended the annual state Youth In Government meet at the state capital, April 17-19. Students presided in the House and Senate for a session of legislation.

The Hi-Y met the faculty in a basketball duel on January 26, with Tri-Hi-Y in charge of ticket sales and concession stand. A Saint Patrick's Day Dance was sponsored by Tri-Hi-Y for the entire student body. The club also served at the "Y" sponsored Pancake Day in December. A hay ride ended the year's activities.

Action rises to a peak in the Hi-Y versus faculty basketball game, in which the winner faced a squad from KAKC. Faculty won both games of the double event.

Hi-Y officers for this year were Steve Montgomery, Mike Aston, Steve Howell, Angie LaFaro and President Lou Moore.

Students Assist Librarians

Processing, cataloguing, classifying and mending books are a few services provided by the Rogers' library assistants. In addition, students aid school librarians, Mrs. Ethel Moore and Mrs. Norma Moeckel, with inventory, collecting library fines, handling over-due books and checking out books. Assistants are chosen for their interest and desire to serve by the class counselors and school librarians; they also gain valuable experience in this field.

Students attended the annual Oklahoma Library Assistants Association meeting in April and a local convention at Bishop Kelly High School.

Club Ushers School Functions

Usher Corps, a valuable school service organization, has the duty of ushering for such school functions as class plays, PTA and Round-Up. Under the guidance of Miss Zella Bell, the club provides 16 members on duty nightly for each activity. Seating arrangements of the auditorium and ways to best seat those attending performances were studied by the members in preparation for duty.

Officers are elected each fall and serve until the end of school. Leading the club in duties this year were Debbie Elledge, president; Gary Prim, vice-president; Vicki Watson, secretary and Eddie Durnal, treasurer. Membership is open to all students with passing grades and a sincere interest in service to the school.

NHS officers are Gay Madden, secretary; Joe Tasker, vice-president; Susie Monger, treasurer; Steve Sizemore, president; and Nancy Bone, Student Council representative.

National Honor Society strives to develop character, leadership, service and scholarship in high school students. It also honors high school juniors and seniors who have excelled in these areas.

Rogers' chapter of NHS, consisting of 91 seniors and 58 juniors, served the school this year by operating the paperback book store. The club presented an assembly in November. Members were introduced, and the NHS purpose and history were explained to the student body.

Activities throughout the year included the city-wide induction ceremony at the Civic Center in November. Linda Chandler, Justin Shields, Diana Durst and Eddie Lane represented Rogers at the state convention in Putnam City during December. Members closed the year with a tour of Oklahoma State University campus.

Key Club Serves School

Service is the purpose of the Rogers' Key Club, an affiliate of the International Key Club Association. The club annually schedules activities to serve the school and community.

1966-67 was an active year. The group attended the division meeting in November and also the Texas-Oklahoma district convention April 14-16 at Tulsa's Mayo Hotel.

Key Clubbers sponsored a chartered bus to Ponca City for the Rogers-Ponca City basketball game. The Club took its turn operating the concession stand one night during the Round-Up.

George Austin served as faculty adviser. Second semester officers were John Fuss, president; Mike Cox, vice-president and Buel Culver, secretary.

Key Club officers during 1966-67 were Roy Staiger, Roger Grebing and John Fuss.

Stagecraft Constructs Set Designs

"I can tell which panel has no glass in it," says Mr. Cox to a not-so-certain assistant during construction of stage sets for the senior class play.

Construction and design of sets for such school functions as Round-Up, forums, assemblies and class plays are some of the many tasks performed by the 25 boys of stagecraft. Stagecraft is guided by sponsor Tim Cox, and officers Bill Howard, student director; Bill Burgess, assistant student director and Glenn Huse, president of audio-visual. The crew not only builds sets but also manages lighting, handles curtains, and controls sound production.

Stagecraft, a school-sponsored service organization, is open to all students. It provides valuable training for those who plan to pursue stagecraft or similar vocations.

Historians Discuss Current Events

New to Rogers this year, History Club offers its members an understanding of the problems of today's world and of their roles in improving situations in future years.

Activities for the year included guest speakers and various field trips. In November, Dr. Ed Strong spoke to the members about the United States policy in Vietnam. A field trip to Gilcrease Museum of History highlighted the month of January. During February, Dr. Ed Cadenhead of Tulsa University presented a program pertaining to our foreign policy toward Red China. Kris LaPota represented the club at a special youth forum in Oklahoma City to discuss major problems facing the U.S., including growth of communism and the rising crime rate.

History Club officers this year are Elaine Borgogni, Don Garrison, and Kris LaPota.

Club Investigates Branches of Science

Mr. Neal Caruthers, organic chemist for Pan American Petroleum, speaks to members at a Science Club meeting on the techniques involved in obtaining oil.

"No nation rules the world; science rules today's world," says Michael David, president of Rogers' Science Club. The club was organized to encourage interest in science and to orient members in different fields of science.

This year's members heard guest speakers from various branches of science. At one meeting the group discussed the topography of Oklahoma and discovered that it varies from prairies in the panhandle to swamps in the southeastern part of the state. The topic of another program was the use of magnetic contrabands to detect shoplifters. In January, Dr. Robert Warren demonstrated his invention to the group—telescopic lenses which enable people with subnormal vision to see. The Science Club is sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Turner.

Instilling knowledge of the various careers in the field of medicine is the purpose of the Rogers' Medical Club.

The club met bi-weekly to hear guest speakers discuss topics related to their profession. This year, Bob Zuberman, inhalation therapist from Tulsa's Hillcrest Hospital, outlined the many levels of training required for the different departments of the hospital. Sister Ursula of St. John's Hospital spoke about her career as an X-ray technician. Climaxing the year, Dr. William R. Turnbow made a speech and gave a demonstration of the practice of hypnosis.

Other activities included the sponsorship of a candy sale in February and a monthly paper drive to finance a bus trip to Oklahoma City for the annual Career Day Convention, held in March. The Medical Club also "adopted" a welfare family at Christmas, decorated the family's home and presented them with gifts.

Mu Alpha Theta Explores Problems

Meeting before school on alternate Thursdays, Mu Alpha Theta members are given the opportunity to explore the vast fields of mathematics and to relate their findings to everyday problems.

Guided by Mrs. Virginia Parks and Jim Burton, the math club annually sponsors the Mathematics Association of America exam, which tests participants on a national level.

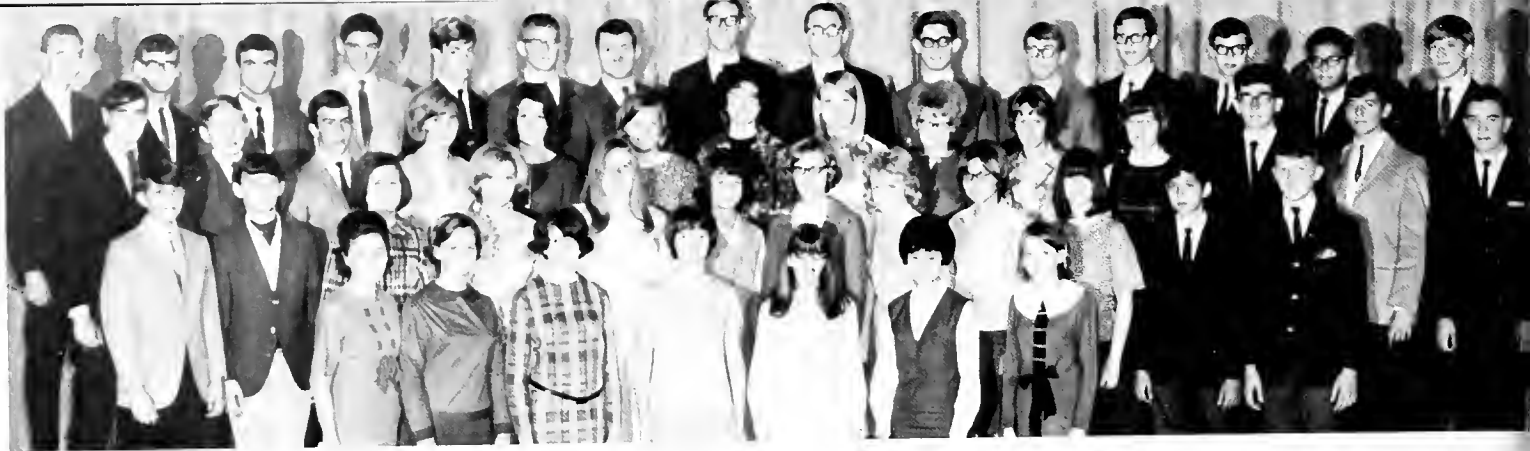

This year individual members planned the programs, formerly the responsibility of officers and sponsors. In October Kenneth Foyil, a Rogers' graduate and a student at Tulsa University, spoke on the topic of probability. On February 11, Rogers was represented at the regional meeting held at Tulsa's new Oral Roberts University. The meeting consisted of a general assembly followed by various group meetings, a luncheon and a guided tour of the campus.

Math Club officers are, Richard Woods, president; LaDonna Hudson, secretary and Bob Cox, vice-president.

Club Studies German Culture

Skits, speakers, films and an end-of-the-year banquet highlighted this year's German Club activities. Sponsored by Mrs. Anna Globe, the Will Rogers German Club strives to create new interest in German culture through greater knowledge and to give interested students a place where they can share their interest with others. The club is composed of both voting and non-voting members, who take active part in all meetings. Voting members are those who are members of German classes, while non-voting members are students who are merely interested enough in German history, culture, literature and philosophy to join the club.

Latins Promote Interest in Classics

Arie Henson and Jo Shahan model the costumes which they wore to the Roman Banquet.

Will Rogers' Latin Club, a chapter of the National and Oklahoma Junior Classical Leagues, promotes interest in the languages and cultures of ancient Greece and Rome. As stated in the group's creed, members believe that a knowledge of these civilizations will help them understand today's world.

Diana Foreman, Vicki Guagliardo, Harry Hewlett and Mrs. Mary Robinson, a Rogers English teacher, represented Rogers at the National JCL convention held in Bowling Green, Kentucky during August. Many of the members attended the state planning meeting at Oklahoma City's John Marshall High in February and the state convention at OU on April 1.

In December the traditional Roman banquet was held. Members dressed in Roman costumes; decorations had a classical theme. To close the year members attended a picnic. "Backyard Olympics" were conducted, including the classic paper-plate-throw and the traditional chariot race. Officers for the year were Jon Leet, consul (president): Jim Seymour, consul (vice-president): Adrienne Schmidt, scriba (secretary): Mike Malloy, quaestor (treasurer): Jim Leath, aedile (program chairman) and Jo Shahan, scrapbook chairman.

Group Promotes French Culture

French club members Dee Ann Brown and David Calhoun "pass around" the cast after Mrs. Otto's accident during the Christmas holidays.

Le Circle Francais, the Will Rogers' French Club, is designed to promote knowledge of the French language and culture. Sponsored by Mrs. Nancy Otto, this year's club was composed of 75 interested second and third year members.

Meetings were held on the second Tuesday of each month in the homes of various members and, occasionally, during second and fifth hour classes. In December, Mr. Jacques Lampain, a native of France teaching at Holland Hall High School, spoke on French geography and customs at a special meeting. The evening concluded with informal discussions and refreshments. A banquet was held to end the year's activities.

Advanced Students Practice Spanish

Spanish Club officers are Babetta Jimpie, secretary; Mary Monfore, president and Pat Gibson, treasurer.

Las Titulias, Will Rogers' Spanish Club, was composed of 14 third and fourth year Spanish students and was sponsored by Miss Zella Bell. All meetings were conducted entirely in Spanish with reports by members and lectures by natives of Spanish-speaking countries. Skits and films headed the list of program activities. As a main project during the year, the club visited a Mexican restaurant to give members a real "taste" of Spanish life.

Girls Train for Cosmetology Careers

Will Rogers' cosmetology classes, composed of Rogers students and girls from other local high schools, study under the qualified guidance of licensed instructor Miss Pat Owens. To be accepted in the class, interested sophomores must agree to attend three hours a day for two years and to maintain a two-point grade average.

Junior cosmetology consists of theory from the Standard Textbook of Cosmetology and study of anatomy and bone structure, chemistry and electronics. Required to complete 144 hours before receiving patrons, the girls learn to give facials, massages, and make-up, as well as all types of hair care. Senior cosmetology emphasizes advanced hair styling, wigs and hair pieces.

The girls, after completing 1000 hours of classroom work, may then apply to the State Cosmetology Board for a Hair Dresser's License.

with Girls

Will Rogers' Modern Dance Club, sponsored by Mrs. Kay Camp, met after school each Tuesday and Wednesday to practice modern dancing, including modern jazz. The 20 club members practiced with the group or worked on individual numbers. The girls brought their own records to use. Any Rogers girl who likes to dance may join the club. Members must pay a membership fee of 50 cents per year.

Girls' Recreation Association, sponsored by Mrs. Melba Harris, stresses enjoyment, health and relaxation and is open to all girls interested in spending extra time keeping physically fit.

Meeting weekly after school in the gym, this year's members participated in such sports as volleyball, basketball, tennis, hockey, modern dance and swimming. Frequently, a "play-day" was sponsored and all girls of the school were urged to participate in the program. Members volunteered as referees and scorekeepers for intramural games throughout the year.

Leading the GRA are Barbara Gore and Gail Montgomery.

Printers' Skills Serve School

Members of the Vocational Printing Club employed their skills to serve Will Rogers and other Tulsa schools. Using offset and letter presses, they produced the traditional round of tickets and posters for class plays and concerts. This year, Sponsor E. T. Sanchez and his printing enthusiasts also prepared a printing instruction booklet to be used by junior high students and printed music sheets for the band and orchestra.

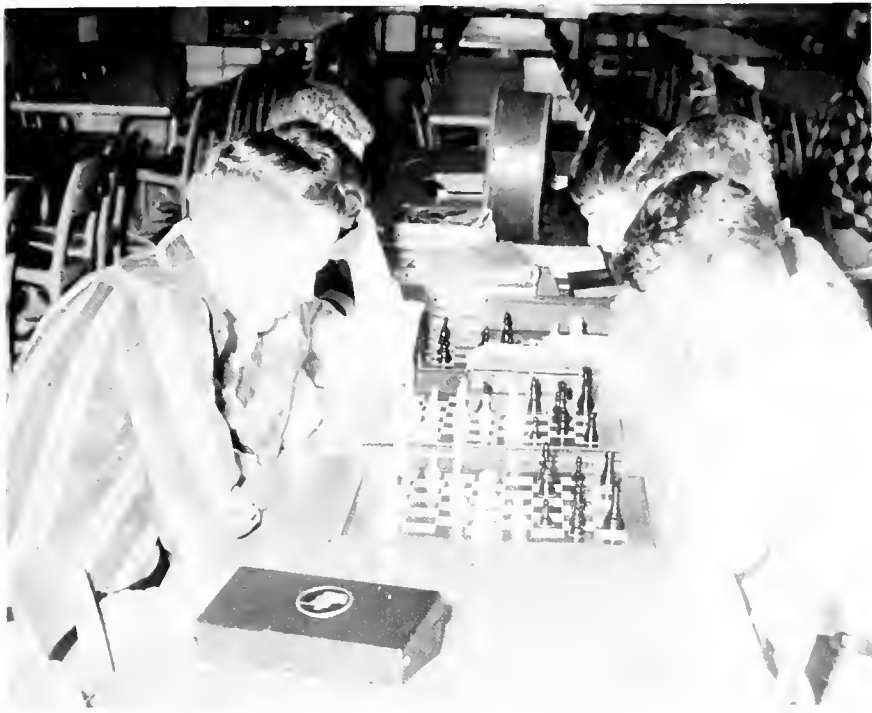

Field trips taken by the group included a tour of the Tulsa World and Tribune Building and a visit to the printing department of Okmulgee Technical College.

Officers for 1967 were Steven Shaw, senior president; Lloyd McClary, vice-president and secretary-treasurer; Leon Hopkins, advertising board representative and Gary Winstone, junior president.

Mr. Sanchez demonstrates an expensive piece of equipment to Print Club members.

Chessmen Challenge Competitors

Bill Broaddrick and Steve Haberly study their chess board while four other members concentrate on their own games, preparing for inter-school competition.

Teaching chess players how to think and not what to think is the purpose of the Will Rogers Chess Club, sponsored by Morey Villareal. Membership also gives the individual player a keen sense of competition and improves his game. Any boy who pays a small registration fee, maintains satisfactory grades and attends weekly meetings is eligible for membership in the club.

The club met weekly, to keep in practice for competitive matches with other city teams as well as the All-City Tournament. This year Rogers chessmen sponsored a school tournament and bought new chess sets.

Officers of the club were Jack Kerfoot, president; John Wagoner, vice-president; Jim Anderson, treasurer and Richard Woods, team captain.

Debaters Study National Issues

Elected by the Debate Club members to lead them during 1966-67 were Paula Coffman, Nicky Dyer, Jim Leath, David Watkins, president, and Kathy Goins.

In order to prepare themselves for interschool competition, the Debate Club members debated among themselves such questions as: eight hours' labor should constitute a day's work; the world is improving in morals; a lawyer has no moral right to defend a man whom he knows is guilty; the voting age should be changed to 18 years; censorship is unconstitutional; capital punishment should be abolished.

Before a debate is begun, two teams are formed and a resolve is drawn. These two teams, consisting of two members each, decide what position they wish to defend on the issue in question. The two teams, judged by four other Debate Club members, are scored on speech, evidence, reasoning, conduct, rebuttal, and manner. All of these are scored on a 1 to 5 basis, except rebuttal and manner which are scored on a 0 to 5 scale. The winning team may be challenged at any time.

According to Kenneth Brown, club sponsor, any interested student attending Rogers may join the club.

Homemakers Study Family Living

Future Homemakers of America is an organization established to help students improve personal, family and community living.

Sponsored by Mrs. Delores Lay, the club met every Monday morning. The officers were Cheryl Adair, president; Tandy Graham, vice-president; Janet Rhoads, secretary; Starr Telfer, social chairman and Brenda Carter, program chairman.

The many activities of FHA included a Valentine Party, a field trip to a children's clothing factory and a make-up demonstration by a leading cosmetic company in Tulsa. One of the school service projects was the selling of refreshments during one performance of the '67 Round-Up.

FHA social chairman, Starr Telfer, puts finishing touches on an economical addition to her wardrobe.

Students Explore Teaching Profession

Sponsored by Mrs. Lorraine Griffin, members of Future Teachers of America study general requirements of a good teacher, opportunities open in the teaching profession and educational requirements needed for certification. The members also participated in group discussions with practice teachers, to gain first-hand knowledge of the experiences and problems they will later face as teachers.

Highlighting the year for the FTA members was a tea in April given by the Teachers Society Association, and a state convention held at Stillwater, Oklahoma in March.

FTA officers are Janis Perry, Linda Eldridge and Mary Linder.

Future Business Leaders Plan Careers

Future Business Leaders of America is open to any student who is currently enrolled in a business course. The purpose of the club is to create more interest in and understanding of business occupations.

This year, several speakers from industry addressed the club meetings. In November, Mr. Leslie Myles, of Tulsa Business College, spoke on curricula and activities of the institute. During December, Miss Glenda Luna, secretary to the vice-president of City National Bank, spoke at a meeting. As guests of Friden Inc., members attended a business program at the Assembly Center in March. Club members were guests of the IBM company in April at the demonstration of a new model of typewriter manufactured by the company. Activities of the year ended with a senior banquet at Bordens Restaurant, Sheridan Village, in May.

FBLA officers are Terri Addington, Carol Chenault, Peggy Winford and Linda Keesee.

C.O.E. Stresses Business Skills

Lola Sams works in the Rogers Bank making out receipts for IUC candy money.

Cooperative Office Education, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Beverly Archer, is a one-year vocational business education course open to seniors who wish to attend school part-time and work part-time in a business or office occupation.

C.O.E. is composed of the secretarial program and the general clerical program. Both stress skill and personality development. Extensive shorthand and typewriting review, shorthand speed building and machine transcription are stressed in secretarial skill development. Personality development, similar in both programs, is designed to develop good grooming, initiative, poise, tact, discretion and self-discipline. The general clerical program is designed to meet the students individual needs.

C.O.E. activities for 1967 included a "Salute the Bosses" Breakfast in April and a state convention in Oklahoma City, April 14-15.

Will Rogers' Distributive Education program offers business courses to students in the morning, and a job related to their course of study in the afternoon. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Eleanor Craig, DE members participate in activities to learn more about the problems they will face in the business world.

Activities in which members participated this year included a Tulsa District Conference, October 12; Bosses' Breakfast, November 9 and the annual Leadership Conference in Oklahoma City, March 5-7. At the Leadership Conference, competition is held on a state level. Members may compete in the study of sales demonstration, display, advertising merchandising and areas of distribution manuals, mathematics of retailing, business vocabulary, public speaking and store layout.

Vocal Music

Boasting two choirs, a mixed chorus and a girls' chorus, vocal music department traditionally strives to perfect the ability and project the talent of its select students. Directing his proficiency and vitality toward his classes, Wesley Howl spends extra time scheduling class programs and planning performances for concerts, banquets and conventions. This year the school provided funds to purchase wool blazers and complementing brocade dresses for Chorale and Choralier members. Mr. Howl also instructs an advanced theory course for the study of composition and harmony. Climaxing the events of the year, Chorale presents the Alma Mater on Class Day.

Chorale Initiates Traditional Pop

Will Rogers' Chorale initiated a new tradition this year with a Pop Concert Assembly, January 27. The program featured selections from "My Fair Lady" and "The King and I."

On November 4 Chorale was featured at memorial services and banquet in Claremore to honor Will Rogers' birthday. At the annual Fall Concert, December 5, they presented the difficult Bach Magnificat, Kaminelli's "Americana" and "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

In January the group performed in the Shaw Awards assembly and at numerous junior high schools. Chorale's performance of "Frostyana," seven of Robert Frost's poems set to music, highlighted Fine Arts Week. The annual Spring Concert featured Brahms' "Requiem." The choir performed at Vespers: seniors sang for the traditional Senior Banquet.

Seniors Bob Lewis and Steve Sizemore concentrate on a song while being led by Wesley Howl during Chorale rehearsal for the Pop Concert.

Senior Susie Monger, Chorale accompanist, practices a piece of music that she will play for Chorale during fifth hour rehearsal.

Concert Assembly

Chorale takes time to eat lunch at Oklahoma Military Academy before they give a concert. The Chorale was in Claremore to help commemorate the birthday of Will Rogers. At OMA the Chorale sang "Americana" and "Old Faithful," Will Rogers' favorite song.

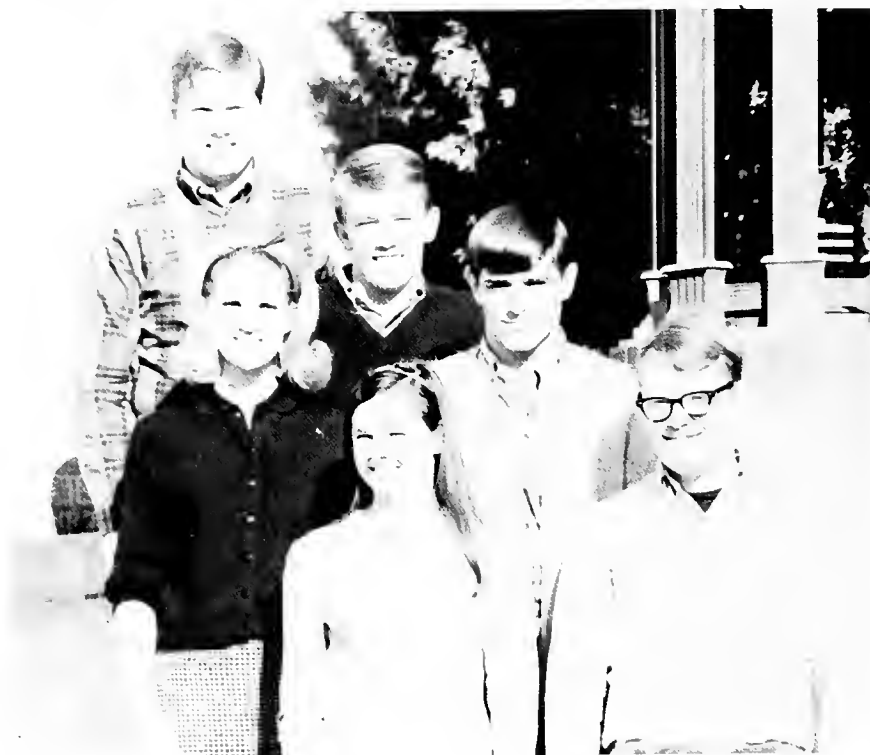

Choraliers Study Major Musical Works

Choraliers officers for 1966-67 are Steve Kirkland, Sandy Whisenhunt, Jim Whitman, Nikki Madiera, Steve Hummel, and Charles Averill.

Will Rogers High School Choraliers had an extremely active schedule this year. The 60-voice choir studied many major works and performed several times throughout the year.

Under the direction of Wesley Howl, Choraliers presented Randall Thompson's "Peaceable Kingdom" for a religious Thanksgiving assembly. Their annual Fall Concert was highlighted by such major works as Messiah chorus by Handel and Arcadelt's "Ave Maria." Choraliers performed for Bell and Wilson Junior Highs. The Spring Concert featured Brahms' "Motet."

Some of the many activities for Choraliers were a Christmas party, a spring banquet and a picnic.

Highlighting Choralier activities, the vocalists performed in the traditional fall concert.

Choruses Develop Wide Range

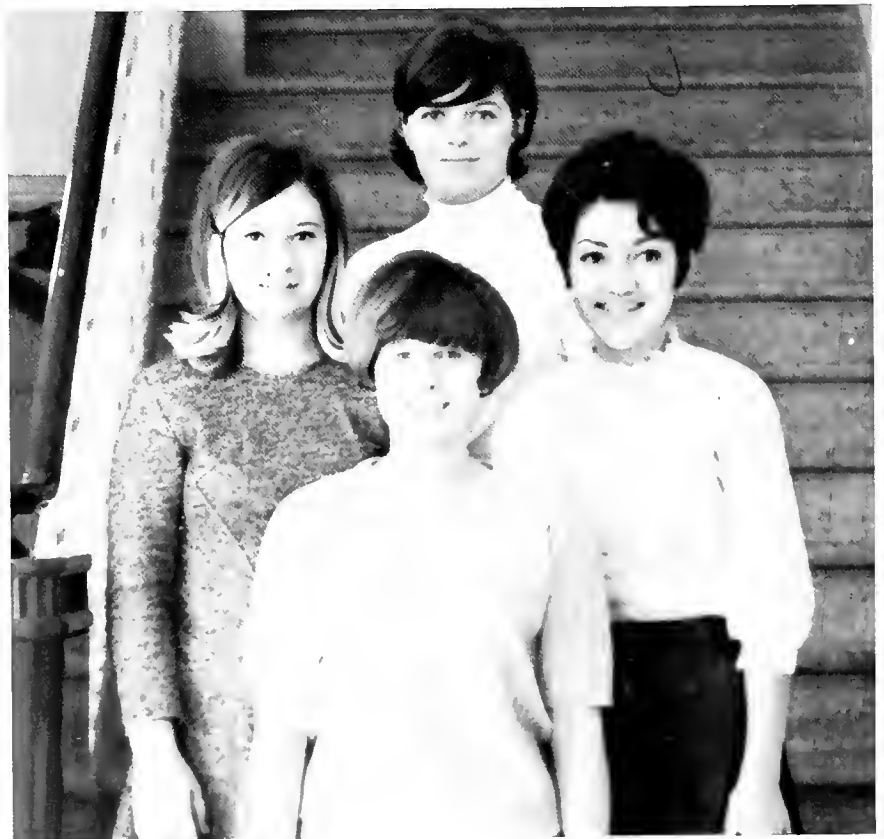

Mixed Chorus and Girls' Chorus, directed by Wesley Howl, help develop the voices of students and teach them a wide range of vocal repertoire. To qualify for membership, a student must be able to sing, read music and cooperate with the choir.

The 42-member Mixed Chorus sang in the all-city Messiah December 13. The group went Christmas carolling and had a spring picnic.

Girls' Chorus, with 40 members, gave a spring concert and had a party at the end of the school year.

Mixed Chorus officers are Diana Whisenhunt, president; Jeanni Philbeck, secretary-treasurer; and Pat Decourte and Diane Pitcock, librarians.

Girls' Chorus officers are LeeAnn Hackathorn, Nancy Bragg, and Ginny Moore.

Instrumental Music

Roper music groups, under the direction of Carl Barnett, participate in activities which vary from marching in a parade to dancing at the annual Instrumental Music Department Prom. The climax of the year is the traditional Spring Concert presented by the Orchestra and the Concert Band. The young musicians are encouraged to audition for special groups, such as the All-State Band and Orchestra, the Tulsa Youth Symphony and the city-wide Messiah orchestra. Instrumental music offers students an avenue of service to their school, an opportunity to combine pleasure with knowledge and a chance to be a part of the traditions of Will Rogers High School.

Instrumentalists Promote Traditions

"The Sweetest Sounds" come from the Rogers Stage Band in Round-Up's skyline scene.

Instrumental music at Will Rogers High School consists of Concert Band, Sophomore Band, Reserve Band, and Concert Orchestra. Instrumental director Carl Barnett is also chairman of the entire music department.

In December and January, the highly-rated Will Rogers orchestra travelled to Hamilton, Bell, Wilson, and Cleveland Junior Highs to give concert performances. In February, the Round-Up orchestra was chosen by competitive tryouts to perform in the all-school production. Bill Kissinger was selected Round-Up conductor. Next the orchestra concentrated on its annual Spring Concert.

On April 8, the entire instrumental music department held its annual Spring Formal in the Student Union Ballroom at the University of Tulsa. As a final project, the instrumental department met for its annual picnic.

Leading the orchestra this year were Dennis Foyil, vice-president; Maxanna Reeder, secretary and Frances Hogue, president.

Mr. Barnett directs the band in "Victory" at the Rogers-Norman game.

Ranked in the top ten high school bands in the nation, the Will Rogers Concert Band began the year as a 101-man Marching Band, with senior Mike Malloy as drum major. They performed in the Fair Parade and Santa Claus Parade and marched as a special escort for Miss America. A "pep band" played for many pep rallies and basketball games. A special band played for the coronation ceremonies of Miss Will Rogers XXVIII. Lenna Baranoff was elected to be the twenty-eighth band queen with Tonda Barnhart and majorette Linda Wilson as her attendants.

Throughout the year, the Concert Band, focusing on a wide variety of music, practiced for the annual Spring Concert. In May, band members gave their final performance for the year at Commencement exercises.

Band officers are Jake Jorishie, captain; Robert Hughes, second lieutenant; Gay Madden, first lieutenant; Mike Malloy, drum major and Joe Tasker, second lieutenant.

Majorettes Add Knives to Routines

Parades, half-time shows and special programs highlighted the year for Rogers twirlers Betty Campbell, Jan Sanders, Sheryl Weigant and Linda Wilson. Under the guidance of Carl Barnett, band director, the twirlers performed such feats as twirling knives or batons and marching in the State Fair, Christmas and Miss America parades.

In addition to performing with the band, each twirler took an active part in Concert Band at the close of marching season.

Majorettes, a traditional part of the Will Rogers band, are chosen each spring. Judging is based upon twirling ability and musical talent.

Under the leadership of Miss Sandra Doolin, the Rogers' drill team met daily during the fall to rehearse such routines as a go-go dance with jazz movements and a precision drill with umbrellas, which they performed at football games and in parades. Royal blue jumpers with white blouses and cowboy hats were chosen as new uniforms.

Finances for bus trips to out of town football games and other expenses were raised by car washes, rummage sales and a free throw contest.

LassO officers for this year are Carla Ball, Gloria Phillips, Sharren Mayfield, Ellen Jones and Kathy Kilgrew.

Publications

Roll the presses! Another year of reporting the news begins. Student journalists, trying to catch a unique expression, an important interview or the student opinion, rush to meet the deadlines necessary for newspaper and yearbook publications. The '67 school year marked the addition of Hoofprints as the Rogers' newspaper. Mrs. Nancy Whitman sponsored both the new publication and the traditional School Life. Mrs. JoAnn Ragsdale was added to the faculty as advisor of the '67 Lariat, the Rogers' yearbook with seven excellent ratings. The staff members spent long hours working to report and record the events highlighting the year at Will Rogers.

Lariat Staff Strives for Excellence

Publishing the yearbook is a tedious, exhausting, yet rewarding task. Excellence is the primary goal, since the last seven Lariats have won All-American, the highest possible rating in the National Scholastic Press Association contest.

Staff members are chosen in the early spring from the junior journalism students. Organization of ideas and planning of the book are then begun and continue through the summer months. September brings the scheduling of publication and planning of photography.

This year's Lariat staff was represented at the fall convention of the Oklahoma Inter-scholastic Press Association at Oklahoma University. The staff was also given the opportunity to attend the spring OIPA convention at Tulsa University and the NSPA convention in Chicago during November.

"But Mrs. Ragsdale, you said six pages, not sixteen for the first deadline," says Eddie Novak, organization editor, waiting for confirmation from Diana Foreman.

Suzi Bryan types activities for the final deadline for the senior section, as Suzi Benear compiles and types the student index.

"How am I going to juggle the books to break even?" thinks Sheryl Hefner, business manager.

Eddie Novak adjusts the shutter speed for pictures for the organization section.

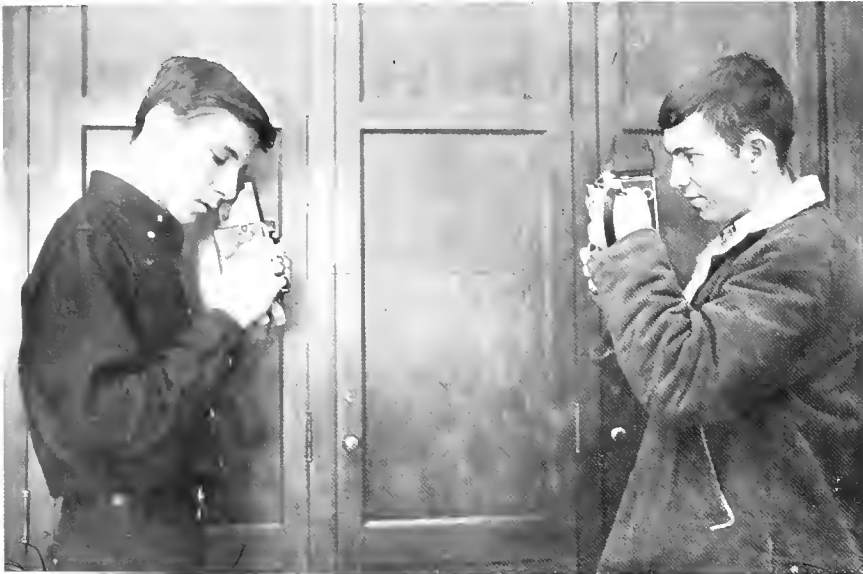

"That ain't bad, for a kid," says Jack Welker, as Bill Kissinger recites Hamlet for Lenna Baranoff, Braden Smith, Jack and Marci Davidson.

Hoofprints Added to WR Publications

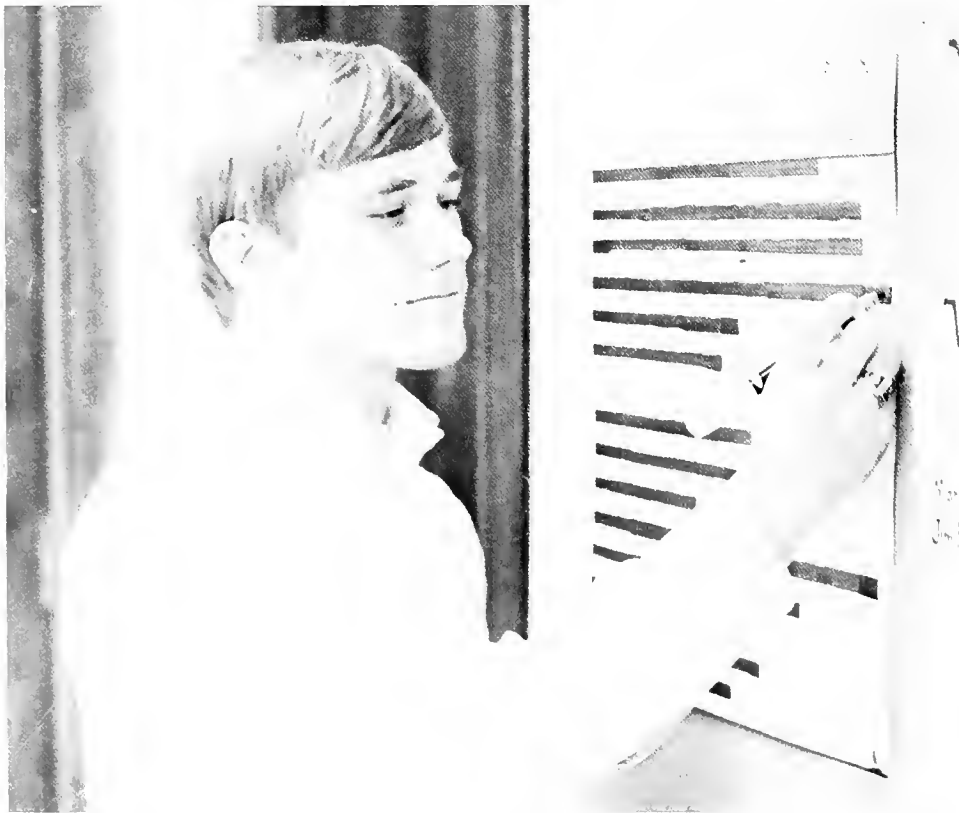

"Break the camera" is the name of the game. Photographers Chris Grant and Glenn Wagner take very important pictures.

Fourteen seniors were chosen in May of '66 to cover various beats for publication of the Rogers' news in the all-city School Life for the next year.

The '67 school year marked the beginning of a Rogers' bi-weekly publication, Hoofprints, to the department. Meeting double deadlines, the staff members were guided by Mrs. Nancy Whitman, sponsor, and Kap Kappel, editor.

Staff members participate in extra-curricular activities including journalism conventions at Tulsa and Oklahoma universities and the traditional Quill & Scroll banquet in February.

Jim Ferris, hopeful of receiving the honor of membership in the 500 Club, awarded for submitting 500 inches of copy, adds inches to his column on the staff chart.

Hoofprints editor Kap Kappel proofs a premier issue for printing errors.

Mrs. Nancy Whitman, advisor, constructs a dummy for the next paper, while Don Sanders and Rob Mitchell look on.

Janis Whited and Phil Kinnamon marvel at "fast fingers" Judy Elston's unique method of counting Hoofprints.

Quill and Scroll Honors Journalists

Quill and Scroll members Marci Davidson and Suzi Bryan discuss plans for a joint meeting of Lariat and School Life staffs with the 11-J class as guests.

Will Rogers' chapter of Quill and Scroll was organized in 1961 to encourage, recognize and reward achievement in some phase of journalism, specifically service on student publications staffs.

On February 2, 1967 the annual Quill and Scroll Initiation Banquet was held. Twenty-eight seniors, all Lariat and School Life staff members, were initiated into the Society as well as two juniors, Miriam Lifscics and Freddie Davis, who were chosen to represent the 11-J's. After the initiation ceremony, Bill Kissinger and Rob Mitchell were elected president and secretary-treasurer. This year the group was sponsored by Mrs. JoAnn Ragsdale.

Quill and Scroll president Bill Kissinger takes time out from his duties as Lariat sports co-editor to talk with a fellow journalist.

"Say what?" remarks eminent School Life columnist Don Sanders when asked to preside at the Quill and Scroll initiation banquet.

Janice Keck and Robert Hughes read this year's first issue of School Life before continuing work on class section layouts for Lariat.

11-J's Practice Fundamentals

To learn the basic fundamentals of journalism and the application of them to the traditional Rogers' publications is the ultimate goal of the junior journalism course.

Mrs. Nancy Whitman, School Life sponsor, trains the select students to write copy for news, sports, feature and editorial stories. She also teaches newspaper layout principles, including formal, informal, and braced headline layouts.

Mrs. JoAnn Ragsdale, Lariat sponsor, instructs the 11-J's in such techniques as picture cropping, page layout planning, headline counting and writing copy for the yearbook.

Early in the spring journalists are assigned positions on the staff of their choice and preparations are made for the coming year's editions.

Mike Crow, Lynne Grady, Janice Freeman, Kathy Folger, Jim Barnett and Sue McBride consider attacking the Lariat staff's arsenal.

Mrs. Ragsdale, Lariat sponsor, illustrates picture cropping for Miriam Lifscics, Anthan Fuller, Pam Justus, Terri Heinley, Charlene Clark, Tom Arnold, Diana Durst and Irene Holliday, who study both yearbook and newspaper techniques.

Debbie Pyles, Jim Seymour, Marilyn Vandervort, Freddie Davis, Steve Kissinger, Debby Yancy and Dave Watkins look through old Lariats.

Emily Wheeler, Mrs. Whitman, 11-J advisor, Lynn Monkres and Nancy Parker review past editions of School Life during regular class session.

Christy Hancock, Steve Cropper and Mary Jo Haskew check the progress of the '67' Lariat.

ATHLETICS

A tradition of champions — in triumph and defeat.

Fall Sports

As traditional as "Will on the Hill" is the athletic department's active part in the fall sports program. In keeping with the tradition of previous tournaments, the Ropers tallied their fourth consecutive win in this year's All-City Football Tournament. In the regular season this year, they not only opposed conference teams, but also faced other state powers, amassing an impressive 9-1 season record. The sight of cross-country boys running mile after mile, and football prospects working out long before fall classes begin, illustrates the hard work and determination these individuals display in trying to achieve a brief glimpse of recognition at Rogers.

Roper Gridders Topple State Powers

Rogers combined a potent offense and a rigid defense to deflate top state football teams and complete a second impressive season for Coach Bill Eubanks.

In All-City Tournament action, the Ropers took a fourth straight title with a 7-7 first-down win over Hale and 21-7 stunning of Edison.

A traditional determination sparked a 21-8 defeat of top-ranked Enid, which later took the state AAA title.

The Roper squad then traveled to Muskogee for a conference opener and breezed past the Roughers, 25-6.

Halting the spirited Brave attack, the Ropers then resulted victorious over arch-rival Central, 14-0.

Early in October, the blue and gold upset Joplin, Missouri's top-rated team, 49-14, for a fourth straight win.

Following a first defeat, the Ropers shut-out a hopeful Hale team, 27-0.

Playing host to Norman the Tulsa team came from behind in final minutes with a touchdown and two-point conversion to blank the Tigers, 21-20.

On a rain-drenched field Rogers then trounced Ponca City, 14-0.

Concluding conference action the team traveled to Bartlesville and chalked up another win by downing the Wildcats, 42-14.

Instructing the Roper backfield this year, was Billy Joe Cagle, one of the new members of the staff. Coach Cagle came to Rogers from Bartlesville. Also in his first year, line coach Tom McGuire turned the Roper front seven into a hard working unit. Coach McGuire came from Tulsa University.

Tom Hurst, in his second year as Athletic Director, took time out to improve and perfect Rogers' passing game.

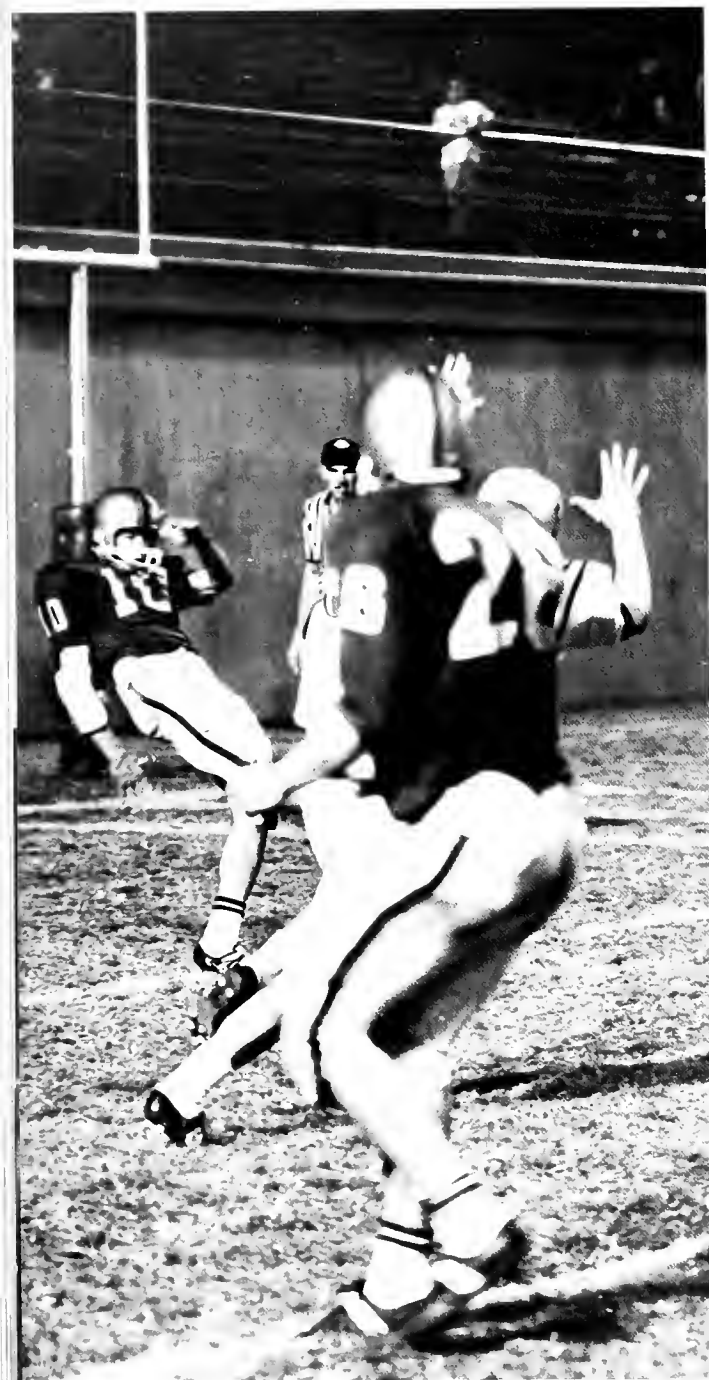

Coaches Rosy Hogue and Wendell Wilkenson coached the B-Squad teams for the '66 season.

Along with these honors the Ropers placed eight on the all-conference squad. Those chosen were Ron Fluke, and Gary McDonald, quarterbacks; Steve Patten, defensive halfback; Mike Aston, fullback; Jim Baker, halfback; Tom Arnold and Mike DuPree, guards; and Angelo LaFaro, tackle.

When the final tabulations of the All-State poll were released, Rogers occupied three of the starting eleven positions. Representing the blue and gold were DuPree, Arnold and Baker.

Winter Sports

As temperature drops marking the conclusion of the fall athletic season, the Roper spirit and determination are directed toward new and varied sport activities at Rogers. To increase ability in team competition and to maintain physical fitness is the purpose of the athletic curricula during the winter months. Contending as a top conference power, the blue and gold competes in basketball, wrestling and swimming under the guidance of coaches Kenneth Henson, Morey Villareal and Gordon Morgan, respectively. Those chosen as athletic lettermen best represent the ideals of sportsmanship, loyalty, ability and determination which are traditional at Will Rogers High School.

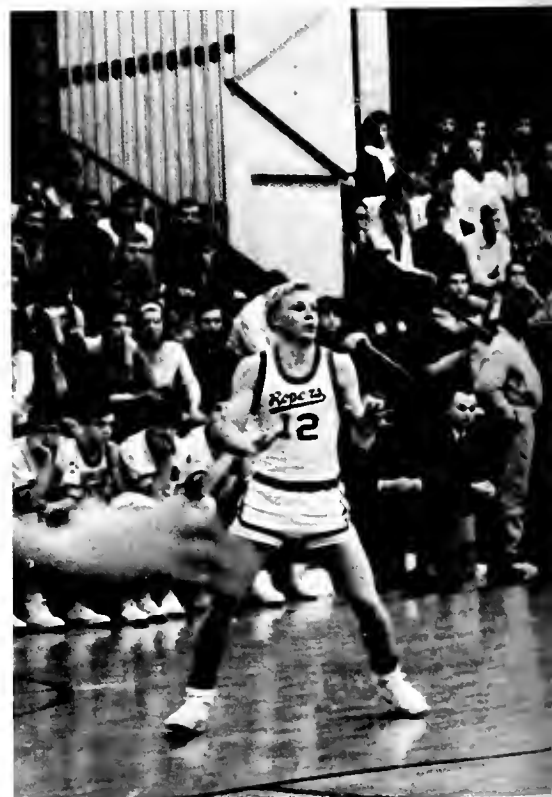

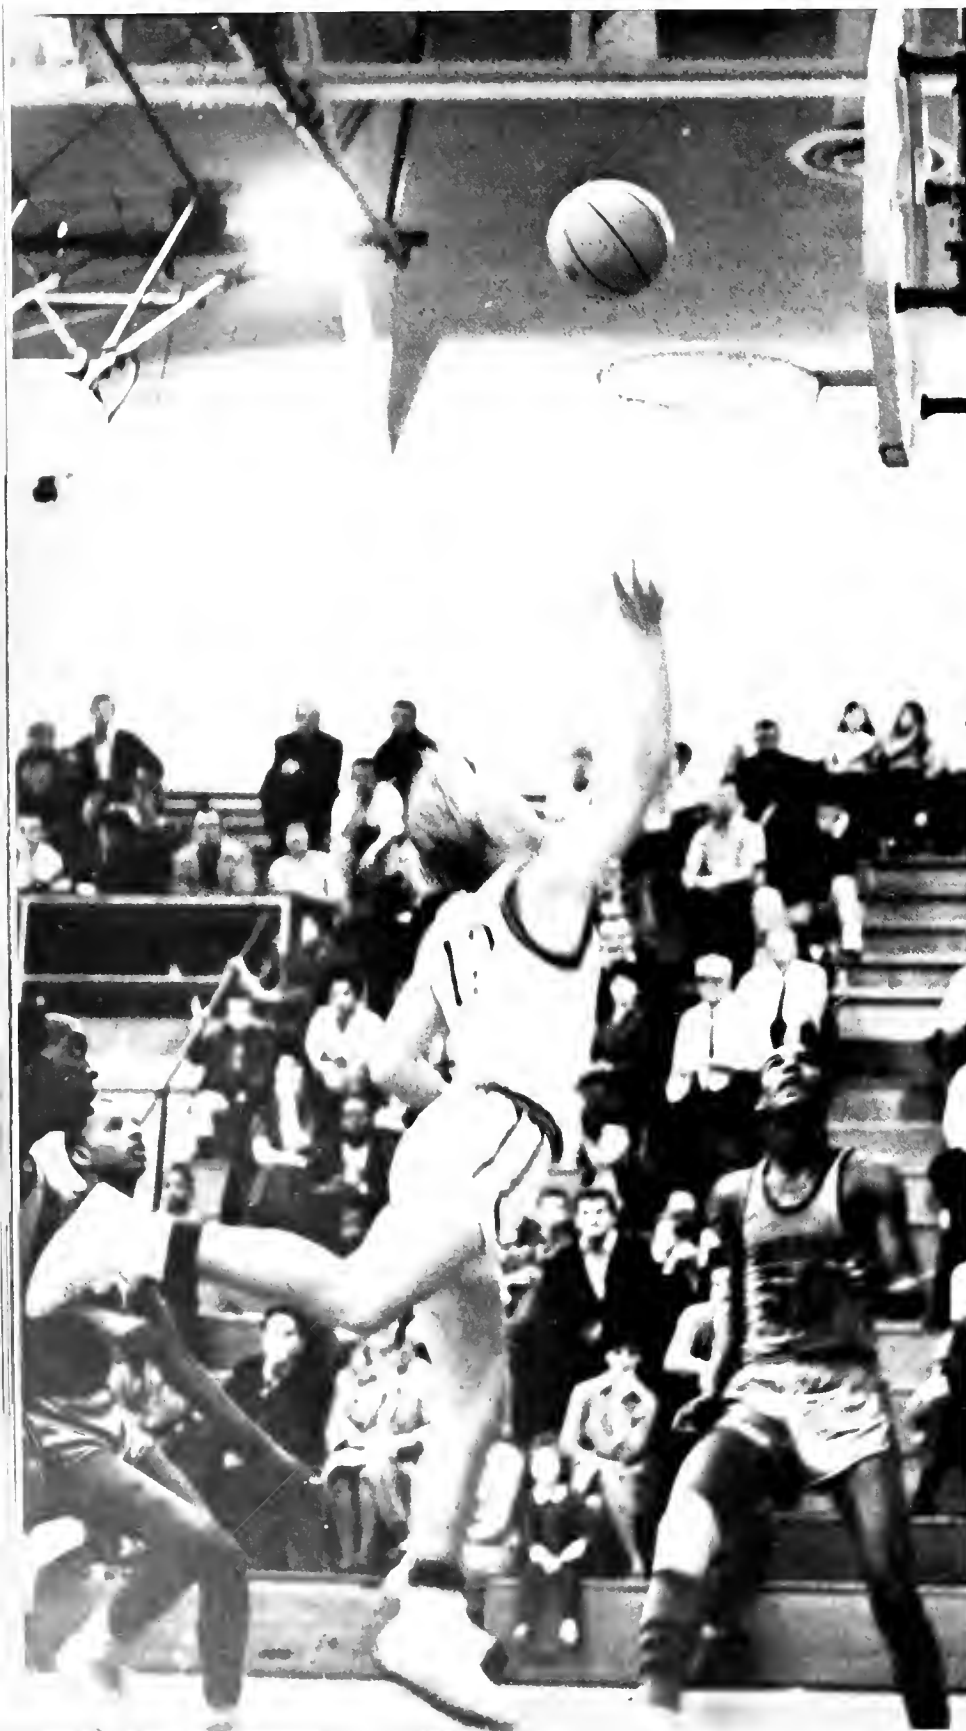

Cagers Capture Conference Crown

A rather awkward shot is easily converted into a two point score by Roper scrapper Steve Montgomery during the Rogers-Washington game in the Hale Tournament.

Compiling an 18-2 season record, the '67 Roper basketball squad captured Rogers' first conference title since the '57 season.

With four returning lettermen, the shorter than average Roper team opened the season with four straight wins over Kelley, Cascia Hall, Muskogee and Memorial. In Hale Tournament action, the squad trounced the Midwest City team before falling to a powerful run-and-gun Washington squad in the closing seconds. In consolation finals, the roundballers dominated the game and finished with an 11-point margin over Webster, good enough to take third place in the tournament. Ropers Steve Montgomery and Steve Sizemore were placed on the All-Tourney first team.

With double victories over league foes Central, Hale, Edison, Muskogee and Ponca City, the Ropers also took games from non-conference foes East Central and Webster.

The Ropers only other season loss at home came in a conference match against an underrated Bartlesville team. After losing a ten point lead, the Ropers were dropped, 58-57.

Closing regular season action, Rogers travelled to Bartlesville for a rematch to decide the conference champions. In a hard-fought game, the Ropers submerged the Wildcats, 59-54, to cinch its' first conference title in ten years: the first under head mentor, Kenneth Henson.

Coach Henson Letters Fifteen

Fifteen basketball players were selected to receive lettermen honors for the rough '66-'67 season. Coach Kenneth Henson lettered the entire varsity squad because of the effort and determination of the conference winning team. With senior experience and outstanding support by the underclassmen, the Roper team compiled an impressive season record.

Aston, Arnold Pin Heavyweights

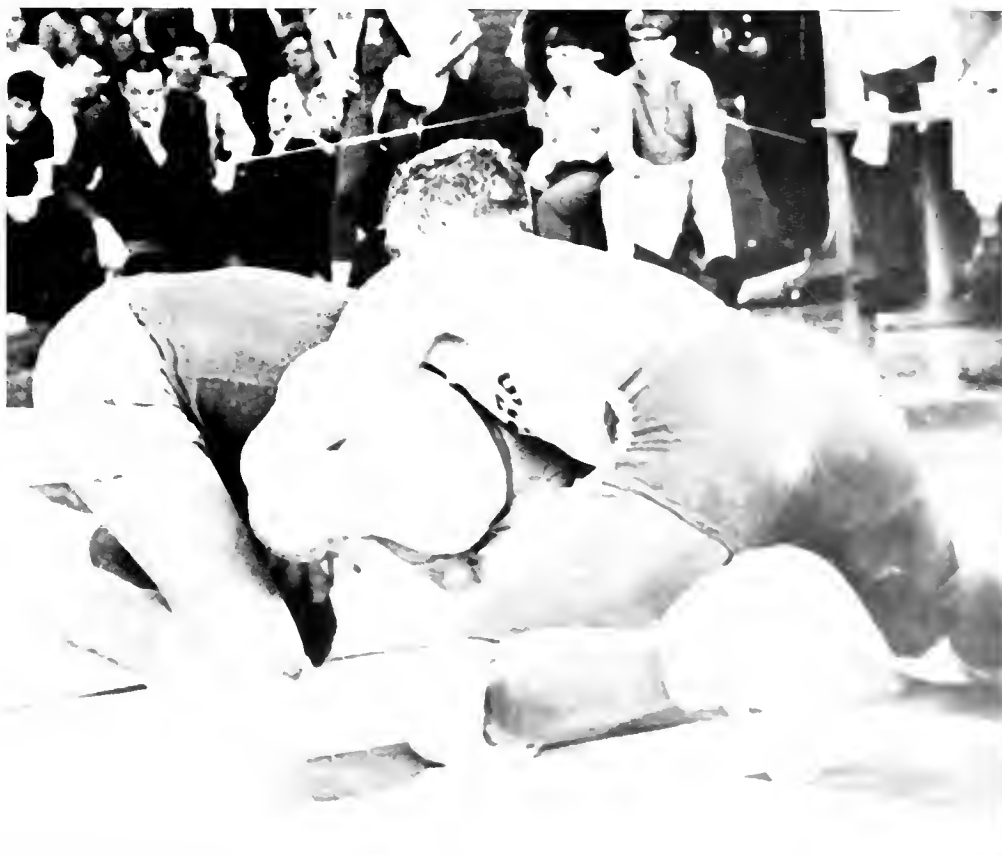

Will Rogers' wrestling team, coached by Morey Villareal, completed the season with a next-to-cellar record of 3-6-1.

With only three returning lettermen, the '67 squad lacked the experience and the depth to overpower their opponents.

Among successuls were all-state hopefuls Mike Aston and Tom Arnold. Last year Aston wrestled behind all-state heavyweight John Ward. This year he made his debut rounding up an 8-1-1 record and numerous tournament placings. Arnold also wrestling behind heavyweight Ward last year, dropped to a lower weight and compiled an impressive 7-3 record.

With a majority of underclassmen receiving valuable experience, next year's squad shows promise.

Letters Honor Individual Grapplers

Coach Villareal rewarded several outstanding wrestlers on his not so successful squad. Sixteen matmen, from all three classes received letters for the '66-'67 season. Villareal selected his lettermen for contribution, determination and over-all hustle to the team. Lacking returning letter recipients, the Ropers relied on many juniors and sophomore wrestlers. Although the squad comprised a rather unimpressive season record, individual merits were given to top conference wrestlers. Receiving special honors were Mike Aston and Tom Arnold. With the experience and honors presented to the underclassmen, the Ropers should have a well rounded team next year, with eight returning lettermen on the starting squad.

Facing tough competition, the Roper mermen finished the '67 season with a 4-7 record.

Rogers got off to a slow start, being dropped in five straight meets. The Ropers were sunk by Edison, Memorial, Hale and Central. Then, they took two in a row from East Central and McLain. Again the Roper swimmers hit a slump, losing twice to Bartlesville, the state champions, and again to Central.

The young Ropers completed the season with wins over East Central and Washington.

Coach Morgan admitted the inexperience of the swimmers this year was a major factor in the disappointing season, but is looking forward to a more productive team next year.

Sophomore David Bradley shows near perfect form during practice in the Roper pool. Hindered by inexperience, Bradley shows promise for the '68 season.

Spring Sports

Spring sports at Rogers start in early February in preparation for the coming athletic events. Although most of these don't begin their seasons until March, the motto of "Practice, practice and more practice" is quite common on the "practice" field. Tennis, track, golf and baseball participants spend many "nippy" afternoons perfecting techniques and sharpening abilities. Coaches assume their second assignment and begin instructing the boys on the specifics of their individual sport. Spring sports, although less publicized, bring recognition to Will Rogers. Thus the athletic program at Rogers ends only to begin again with pre-season training for fall sports.

Track Team Hurdles Opponents

Early in spring in preparation for an upcoming track meet, senior Charles Underwood, track letterman, practices broad jumping and other track activities.

This year's track team, coached by Bill Eubanks, relied heavily on underclassmen after losing many thinclads to graduation.

Although last year's squad won only one of four duals, it finished 5th in conference and 14th in state.

With returning lettermen Don Lucas and Charles Underwood, Rogers had power in this year's field events. Don took part in the high jump and Charles participated in the broad jump and relays as well as the high jump, in which he took last year's regionals and finished third in the state.

In the running events, Hector Rocha, who participated in cross country also, and Mark Thompson, short-distance runner, were Rogers' main contenders.

"Aarg! aarg! ... umph!" exclaims hefty Jerry Hobson, senior thinclad, who displays championship form as he practices putting the shot.

Perfecting handoffs, early in spring, senior Charles Underwood and Richard Frost, junior, practice the 440-relay for upcoming meets.

Senior trackster Wayne Carter strives for the perfect timing a high jumper must have to clear the high hurdles.

Displaying championship form, senior trackman Bob Cox grimaces under the strain of throwing the discus in preparation for the upcoming season's competition.

A tradition of education — the result of all the wisdom of the past.

WILL

Seniors

Twenty-eight classes of students have come to Will Rogers High School as starry-eyed sophomores, eager to learn, to laugh and to grow, and have left as young men and women, better prepared to face the challenges of tomorrow. Seniors display their wisdom and maturity gained through experience in every activity, from electing class officers to commencement exercises. They inherit, share and then pass on to underclassmen the many traditions for which Will Rogers High School is unique. Graduation finds each member of the senior class possessing a wealth of pleasant memories and ambitions for a successful future.

Leaders Provide Guidance for Seniors

Mrs. Charlsie Huffmyer, senior class sponsor, Mrs. Blanche Cordes, and Miss Kathleen Courtney, senior counselors, plan commencement exercises.

In September of 1964 this year's senior class was oriented to Will Rogers. Kap Kappel was elected president of the sophomore class. Through the advice of counselors, teachers and upperclassmen, they became familiar with the traditions and customs of Rogers.

The junior year for the class was highlighted by ordering senior rings, producing the play, The Doctor In Spite of Himself, electing Bob Lewis, prexy, and the traditional junior prom. Senior class officers were elected in the spring for the coming year. Bob Lewis, Ron Joyce, Lenna Baranoff, Linda Chandler, Suzi Benear and Vicki Bunn were installed to lead the class.

The seniors presented the play, Life With Father, October 20 and 22. Plans for the prom, banquet, vespers and graduation began. Commencement exercises and Class Day Assembly marked a farewell from the class of 1967 to Will Rogers High School.

Officers for the class of '67 are Suzi Benear, social chairman; Bob Lewis, president; Ron Joyce, vice-president; Vickie Bunn, student council representative; Linda Chandler, treasurer and Lenna Baranoff, secretary.

Personalities Vary in Upperclassmen

"Uh, would you believe the balance doesn't balance?" grumbles Bonnie Loveless.

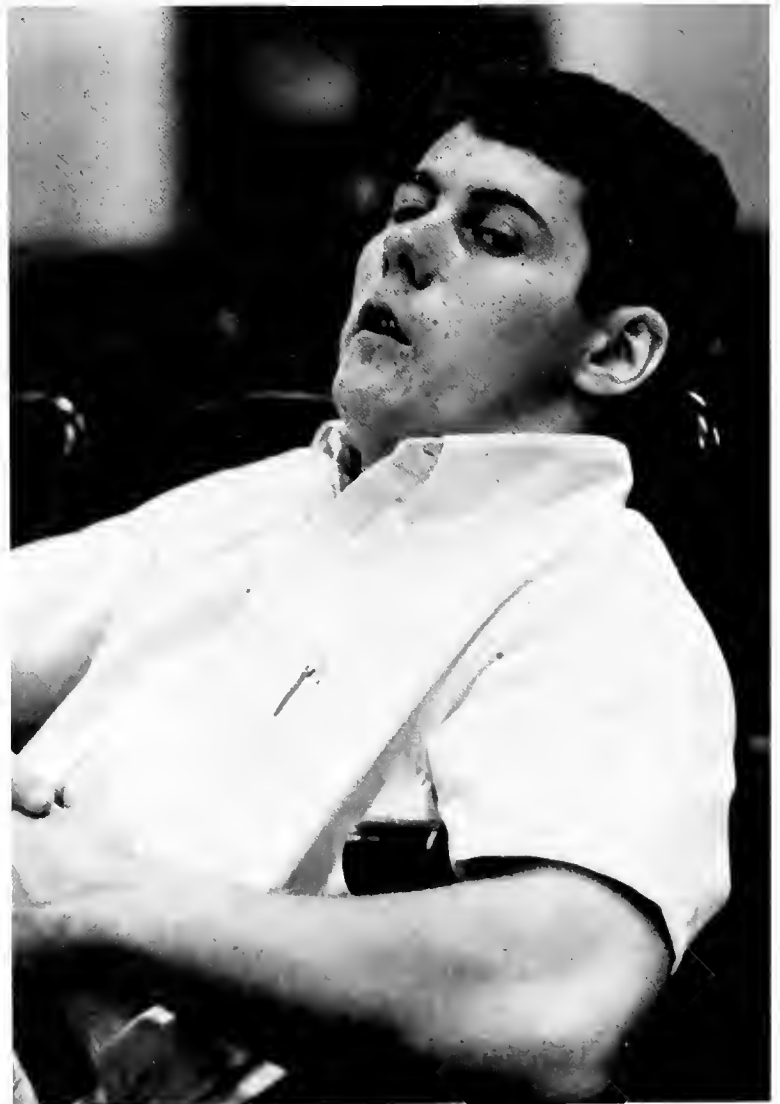

Students display something of themselves in every phase of activity during their school days. As seniors, their characters represent a composite of their ambitions and ideals.

Will Rogers was the most common of men, yet he possessed a sincere, fun-loving philosophy which won him the admiration of everyone. His statement, "I never met a man I didn't like," represents the basis of friendship and good sportsmanship typical of Ropers.

"Reverend" Charles Averill pauses after an especially moving funeral sermon.

"So we missed another deadline. Do I really look like I care?" mumbles Kap Kappel, School Life editor.

"Girls always get excited over the silliest things," says Mike Barham as Vicki Bunn becomes frantic during senior play rehearsal.

Carol Chenault displays undivided interest in class discussions on Greek literature.

"Hurry up! I'm starved," says Lenna Baranoff as Suzi Benear gives last minute instructions to student photographer Glenn Wagner.

Senior Advertising Board members meet with Mrs. Huffmyer, sponsor, to plan activities for the Class of '67 as it begins its final year.

Seniors Prepare for Future Lives

Charles Malone, Director of Admissions at Tulsa University, informs Rogers' seniors of courses available to T.U. freshmen in 1967.

Juniors

The junior, or middle class, has a special position in school life; it is the backbone of the school, bridging the span between the beginning sophomores and the departing seniors. By participating in activities such as choosing attendants to her majesty, Miss Will Rogers, presenting a class play, ordering class rings and attending the anticipated Junior Prom, members of the junior class become familiar with the many traditions of Will Rogers High School. Climaxing the year with the election of class officers and the selection of band queen and attendants, the junior class proves its capability by assuming the roles of leaders for the next senior class.

Junior Board Guides Class Activities

Completing their second year at Will Rogers, the 840 juniors in the class of 1968 have worked to further the traditions of our school. The class officers, Charles Kimball, president; Steve Cropper, vice president; Emily Wheeler, secretary; Dinah Glanz, treasurer; Dayna Glanz, social chairman and Steve Richert, Student Council representative, have demonstrated their efficient leadership by guiding the juniors to sound financial success, as well as setting a fine academic example for their class. Instructing the prospective seniors in scholastic and vocational training are counselors, Mrs. Bessie Miller and Ernest Darling. Under the guidance of John Meadows, the Junior Board plans and carries out the various social and fundamental projects of the class.

This year, juniors initiated the Knight Scholarship Fund and participated in the traditional class activities.

Sophomores

Incoming sophomores, heirs to the customary domination of upperclassmen, learn to challenge the goals of former classes and strive toward greater educational achievement. At first unfamiliar with the many Rogers traditions, sophomores soon develop a respect and admiration for the ideals of Will-on-the-Hill. Learning the Alma Mater, cheering the team, witnessing the majestic coronations of the queens, and applauding Round-Up, sophomores absorb the atmosphere of their school, and prepare themselves to make a greater contribution as juniors to future activities.

Sophomore class counselor, Kenneth Muncy, and class sponsor, Miss Sandra Doolin, confer with Karen Cramer on the progress of ticket sales for the Hey-Day dance.

Leaders Chosen for Underclassmen

Lloyd Johnson, sophomore class president, stops in main hall to admire the traditional bust of Will Rogers.

Sophomore activity begins with the elections of officers to lead the class through its first year. Elections of board members to schedule and plan the year's events follows.

Counseling the newly oriented members of the class of 1969, are Kenneth Muncy, Mrs. Ruth Stidham, and Loren Notley. The class is sponsored by Miss Sandra Doolin.

Social committees planned the sophomore's Heyday dinner and dance staged in early December. Festivities included selection of Kathy Walker as Heyday Queen and Mike Stillwagen as Mr. Pretty Legs.

Elections are held in the spring for officers to guide the class of '69 in its junior year.

Kathy Walker, Heyday Queen, shows Mr. Pretty Legs, Mike Stillwagen, that although he may have the prettiest legs, she has the biggest feet.

. . . not a place, but a tradition

In Appreciation

Of the cooperation and kindness received in producing the 1967
Lariat, the staff would like to thank:

Dr. R. W. Knight, the administration and the faculty,

The Oklahoma artist Charles Banks Wilson for color transparencies taken from his paintings of Will Rogers,

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Carroll of Taylor Publishing Company for printing,

Mr. Tom Matthews for color and group pictures,

Beverly's Studios, and Mrs. Keck; Enterprise Studios, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stalnaker for class pictures,

And the entire student body for making this year at Will Rogers one of traditional greatness.

Sincerely,

Mrs. JoAnn Ragsdale, advisor

LaDonna Hudson, editor

WERE YOU BY ANY CHANCE
SMOKING WHILE IN THE BATHROOM FENWICK?

Mr Brown,

This is from your favorite student, Best of Luck

MIKE ROBERTS

To a guy who has been a great inspiration to me and my life. You're a great teacher - especially for speech. Excuse and forgive my blunders, if you please - no one can regret them more than I. I hope you last longer than the other speech teachers whose place you took. Good luck always (oops)

Mr. B
I've been great to work with you not only in the speech
class but the Soph.
club also. I think you made it a great success. You've taught me a lot this year & I really appreciate it. I hope to leave your class. Good Luck wonderful family
Sincerely
David Gurin

Mr. Brown,
I have really enjoyed being in your special class this year. You are one of the nicest and best teachers I have ever had and I have learned a lot from you.
I will miss you very much.
Yours truly,
Kathy. Feb. 16, 1960

Dear Mr. Brown,
Thanks for a most unusual & rewarding year. I am seriously interested in drama & etc
now, so I'll come back in a few years & tell you how far your influence went.

Good Luck!
Thanks Again
Mandy Miller

Mr. Brown,
You were my
most favorite teacher.
I figure it's OK to say it now since grades are already
out. You had the greatest 5th hour class I think. You truly a good teacher and I wish you
the best of luck always.
By the way, I've learned alot about speech this year.
Good luck
Cindy Burke.

Mr. Brown,

I don't know the words to express my appreciation for all that I have learned from you this year. I used to not be able to get up in front of a crowd with much ease, but now I can.
May you live a long life so that other students will have the opportunity to have you as a teacher.

Ron Harris

Mr. Brown,
Thanks for the great times
this year and all of the things that I have learned. You are one of the nicest (best teachers)
I have ever had and I think that I can speak for all of us that we have truly enjoyed your services. I hope to see you next year sometime and get into talk to you. Thanks again
Mr. Brown.
